

MOTOR TRANSPORTS BLOWN UP

Seventy Soldiers Injured When Motor Lorries in Which They Were Riding Are Blown Up by Bombs in Streets of Cork

ATTACK FOLLOWS NIGHT OF TERROR

Shooting of Commissioner Smyth Said to Have Led to Rioting

Total of Casualties Will Run Well Over One Hundred Mark

CORK, July 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—Two military lorries loaded with soldiers, which passed through the streets of Cork at 3 o'clock this morning, were attacked by civilians with bombs and blown up. Between 60 and 70 soldiers were injured. The civilians threw 29 bombs.

This attack followed a night of terror into which the city was plunged as a result of street fighting in which Sinn Féiners and military participated following the death of Commissioner Smith. Two men were killed and some 40 were wounded in the gun fighting, which brought the total of casualties well over the hundred mark.

The Sinn Féiners used the guerilla tactics which had been outlined in the plan of campaign of the republican army.

Another despatch states that the fighting was started when the military forces rushed into the streets shooting indiscriminately on hearing that Commissioner Smith was killed.

FACES TRIAL FOR MURDER AT DALTON

PITTSFIELD, July 19.—Joseph Balzarano, aged 26, was put on trial in the superior court this morning, charged with the murder of Vincenzo Cruci, the alleged crime taking place at Dalton on March 27, 1915. Balzarano was indicted with Vincenzo Patrella, otherwise known as Vincenzo Mega, and Matteo Neapolitano, who were convicted of second degree murder in July, 1916, and were sentenced to life terms in state prison.

Balzarano's two alleged confederates were in court, having been brought from state prison to testify for the commonwealth. One hundred and thirty-three jurors had been summoned specially for the case, and the drawing of jurors was taken up immediately following the opening of court this morning.

FOR NAVAL SERVICE

During the early afternoon Chief Joseph Crepeau of the navy recruiting station forwarded four more men to Boston as recruits for the naval service. Alexander Chappell of 1 Everett street, Nashua, N. H., Wilfred Cordeau of 435 Common street, Lawrence, Felix Constantineau, 112 Milberry street, Lawrence, and Alfred Schaphe of North Wilmington were the men signed up.

LEAGUE WILL BE MAIN ISSUE

Harding's Campaigners Feel Sure That Battle Will Hinge on It

Believe Democrats Will Make Straight Plea for Vindication of Wilson Policy

MARION, Ohio, July 19.—Assurance that the League of Nations will lead all other issues in the campaign is seen by the advisers of Senator Harding in over-Sunday developments around the camp fires of the two big parties.

The announcement in Washington that Governor Cox stands in perfect accord with President Wilson, is taken here to mean a straight-out plea by the democratic party for vindication and perpetuation of the Wilson foreign policy, a policy against which Senator Harding and all of his lieutenants here are ready to make the fight of the political lives.

Even before yesterday's White House conference was concluded, Senator Harding's campaign was well advanced.

PLAN FOR BETTER COAL DISTRIBUTION

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Coal operators and railroad executives presented to the interstate commerce commission today a plan agreed to by them designed to facilitate the distribution of coal to the northwest. New England and Canadian territory. Details of the proposal were withheld until the commission has an opportunity to study it.

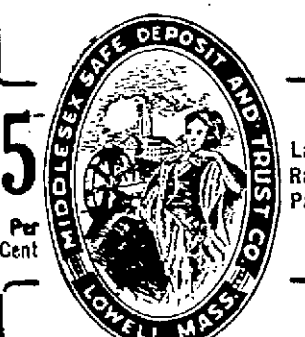

Sufficient coal is being mined in the eastern territory, it was said, to meet current needs, but unless transportation arrangements are modified enough of it will not be moved into the northern districts named to prevent winter shortages.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING

CHICAGO, July 19.—Laurence Wilder, multi-millionaire head of the Amalgamated Machine Co., his wife, who is a daughter of James A. Patten, the wheat king, and Millar Brainard, vice president of the Central Trust Co., of Chicago, narrowly escaped death yesterday when their canoe capsized about a mile out in the lake.

They were rescued by Lieut. James Breece, U.S.N., who designed and engineered the NC-4 on its recent transatlantic flight, his wife and Jarrod May, who pulled the stroke oar of the Cambridge crew during his college days.

BURTON GETS ANOTHER TRIAL

Will Be at Wheel of Shamrock Tomorrow, Says Sir Thomas

Challenger Will Not Discuss Crew Plans For Following Races

SANDY HOOK, N. J., July 19.—Capt. William P. Burton will be given another chance at the wheel of Shamrock IV.

Sir Thomas Lipton would not say this afternoon what developments might be expected after tomorrow's race with the Resolute for the America's cup, nor would he deny that he and his advisers on the steam yacht Victoria had virtually decided to remove Capt. Burton from the title of the cup challenger after Saturday's contest in which Capt. Burton's handling of the Lipton craft had been severely criticized.

Sir Thomas was somewhat perturbed when he read in the newspapers of plans for supplanting Capt. Burton.

"Capt. Burton will be at the wheel tomorrow, I understand," said Sir Thomas. "After that I cannot say, and of course, I will not talk about it."

It was the general belief aboard the Victoria today that Capt. Burton had asked for another chance to sail the challenger and that it had been granted him. Capt. Burton could not be seen.

Sir Thomas showed today a cablegram he had received from King Alfonso of Spain, which read:

"Delighted to hear of your victory. Go on."

Sir Thomas supplied King Alfonso with the skipper and crew of the king's yacht, the Espana.

SECURING COAL FOR THE WATER DEPARTMENT

In an endeavor to get some definite assurance that the local water department is to have coal enough next fall and winter, to be able to continue giving Lowell residents a supply of water, Mayor Perry D. Thompson, Commissioner John F. Salmon, and Purchasing Agent Edward H. Foye this afternoon went to Boston to interview officials of various coal firms in that city.

This afternoon's trip followed a conference in the mayor's office which lasted the greater part of the forenoon, during which the mayor's telephone was kept busy with calls to Boston and local coal dealers and to the office of Fuel Administrator James J. Storrow at the state house.

Out of it all came assurance from one local dealer that he would be able to supply one carload at $15.62 per net ton. This will be sent at once to the West Sixth street pumping station.

While the situation as it affects the water department is not immediately serious, inasmuch as there is enough coal available to keep it running for two or three weeks, nevertheless, the municipal authorities have no idea where more coal is coming from when the present supply runs out. Hence, their anxiety and determination to employ heroic efforts, if necessary, to improve the situation.

Commissioner Salmon was in telephonic communication this morning with a representative of Mr. Storrow's office to see if the water department would be able to secure priority rights if eventually it should be fortunate enough to secure an option on a shipment of coal. According to information which he received from the state house, Commissioner Salmon would have no assurance that the state would step in and seize such coal if he should be lucky enough to get an option on it. That means that the department will not actually be sure of any coal until it is dumped into its holds in the pumping stations.

EXPLOSION BURIES EIGHT

Miners Entombed in Union Collieries Co. Shaft Near Pittsburg, Pa.

Help Rushed to Scene—No News Until Entrance Is Forced

PITTSBURGH, July 19.—John Lutzman, night foreman, two fire bosses, two pumpers and three laborers were entombed by an explosion in the mine of the Union Collieries Co. at Renton, 15 miles from here, at 3:30 o'clock this morning. The explosion blew the cage out of the shaft, and as soon as repairs to the hoisting apparatus can be made, rescue crews will endeavor to find the buried men.

The bureau of mines and the offices of the Union Collieries Co. here are without further information than that an explosion of unknown cause had occurred.

Officials of the company said that until an entrance is made in the mine, nothing can be determined.

FREIGHT CAR SHORTAGE RELIEVED HERE

The freight car situation in Lowell is giving much less trouble to manufacturers than was the case a short time ago. According to Yardmaster George F. Shea of the Boston and Maine railroad the number of cars that are now being made available to local mill shippers is within nearly ten per cent. of their requirements.

Figures compiled by W. F. Whitcomb of the chamber of commerce show that a total of 303 cars were placed on mill sidings and private tracks for loading last week. On one day one of the mills was given a car in excess of its requirements and this was later turned over to other shippers. On Wednesday the Tremont & Suffolk, Massachusetts, Hamilton and Boott mills had so nearly caught up with their shipping needs that each one of them asked for but a single car, which was supplied.

The number of cars furnished to the mills during the week, according to Mr. Whitcomb's figures, was as follows:

Monday	33
Tuesday	46
Wednesday	46
Thursday	46
Friday	45
Saturday	35

All of these cars were box cars.

Every day 25 box cars are being sent from Lowell to Concord as Lowell's contribution to the 1233 cars that the

TO PASS UPON RAILWAY LABOR BOARD AWARD

CHICAGO, July 19.—The first grand council in more than a year of executives, general chairmen and general committeemen of the 16 recognized railroad brotherhoods opened in Chicago today to pass upon the wage award of the railway labor board. The board's decision, it has been announced, will be made public tomorrow.

Approximately 1000 union officials are expected to be present when the council takes final action on the awards and more than half that number already have reached Chicago.

Samuel E. Heberling, president of the Switchmen's union of North America, declared last night that if it was decided that the award was unsatisfactory "concerted action would be taken by the 16 brotherhoods."

The wage increases asked by the railroad workers, of whom there are nearly 2,000,000, would total more than $1,000,000,000. The demands range from 25.3 per cent. for shopmen, to 66.1 per cent. for maintenance of way employees.

LONDON, July 19. (By Associated Press.)—The British government today received a note from the Russian soviet government stating that Russia was prepared to agree to an armistice and to make peace with Poland.

The note was sent by George Tchitcherin, the foreign minister. It was in reply to the British proposal for an armistice and peace conference.

In the note, the soviet government made a fresh proposition, which is under consideration by the British cabinet.

PRINCIPLE OF LIVING WAGE

Its Establishment For All Time Necessary, Says Mine Workers' Head

Phillip Murray Argues For Union Before Anthracite Commission

SCRANTON, Pa., July 19.—In arguing for the mine workers before the anthracite mine commission here today, Phillip Murray, vice president of the union, declared the outstanding development of the hearings which are drawing to a close, is "the establishment for all time in this industry of the principle of the living wage."

"The operators have declared repeatedly their acceptance of this principle and their purpose to adhere to it and have stated that the sole point of difference with us is one of fact, as to what constitutes a living wage and how it should be determined," Mr. Murray continued. "It was not until the cross-examination that we secured from the operators the amazing statement that a mine worker can live and support a family on $3.34 per day. That is their translation of the principle of the living wage into concrete figures; that is their measure of the worth of a man under present day conditions. Mr. Warner's $3.34 per day, plus Mr. Warner's cows and chickens, fresh air and beautiful scenery, furnished us by the operators without price to us and without cost to themselves, comprise the sum total of their contribution to the information of the committee as to how to determine and what to fix as a living wage for 152,000 workers."

"Our demands have been met by the operators with the contention that they are now paying us a living wage."

Overland Automobile Climbs Steps at City Hall—Crowd Applauds

As a demonstration of the ruggedness and climbing qualities of the Overland automobile, one of the stock models of this type of car this noon climbed city hall steps, maneuvered back and forth on the upper landing for several minutes in an endeavor to turn around and then paraded right down again while some 5000 interested spectators lining Monument square and the approach to the municipal building looked on.

Herbert Dix, a salesman connected with the Boston office of the Overland Co., drove the car on its novel journey. He made the trip all alone despite the fact that there were several vacant seats in which volunteers might have enjoyed the experience, but for some reason or other failed to make a request for a ride.

Some time before 12 o'clock people began assembling around city hall and

SOME STUNT, WE'LL SAY TO RE-OPEN TRADE ROUTES

Agreement Between U. S. and Hamburg Companies Means Much to Germany

Would Allow Latter Nation to Regain Touch With Outside World

Much Political Significance Also Attached, Says Steamship Head

HAMBURG, July 18. (By Associated Press.)—As further particulars come to light regarding the agreement between the Hamburg-American Steamship Co. and the American Ship and Commerce corporation by which the former German trade routes are to be opened to American shipping, the belief is deepening in shipping and financial circles here that it constitutes one of the momentous events for Germany since the war. Through it the Germans see the means of regaining touch with the outside world and an opportunity for Hamburg to re-establish a semblance, at least, of its former position as a great port.

But, apart from the commercial benefits expected to result, the Germans attach much political significance to the agreement.

MANCHESTER, Vt., July 19.—Selection of a jury for the trial of Byron M. Pettibone for the murder of his wife by poisoning at their home in Bennington, on April 6, was begun here today. Because of the close interest in the case throughout the countryside, it was expected there would be difficulty in filling the jury box and, although an extra panel of talesmen was called, deputy sheriffs were prepared to go into the streets and impress passersby for service.

BURIES DAUGHTER IN HIS BACKYARD

NEA, Staff Special
TOMAH, Wis., July 19.—Mary-Rain-
in-the-Face, daughter of Spoon Decora-
rah, Winnebago Indian and Civil war
veteran, is buried in her father's backyard.

"I bury her there," granted Spoon Decorah, "that I may see her grave on the moonlight nights."

Spoon Decorah, long a follower of
the white man's ways, wouldn't bury
his child when she died recently, according to the tribal fashion, but perhaps would be head the council of his white friends and place the grave in
the churchyard here.

"She lived by me and now I shall have her by me," he declared and because he is a G.A.R. veteran no one
interfered.

Spoon Decorah has the white name,
"John Sherman." He enlisted in the Third Wisconsin Regimental Infantry
and was with Sherman on the march
to the sea. Mary-Rain-in-the-Face
traced her ancestry through her father to the queen of the Decorah family—Glory-of-the-Morning. The family is one of the most prominent of
the Nebraska and Wisconsin tribes of

ANNUAL LAWN PARTY WAS BIG SUCCESS

a success and reflected abundant
credit on Rev. T. Franklin Wood,

the event, the other priests of the parish and a hustling corps of assisting committees. The midway, with its wealth of varied attractions, gave
pleasure and amusement to thou-

every table was well patronized. The general committee in charge of the party will meet Friday evening, to

DIDN'T PAY NEAL TO BREAK AWAY

John F. Neal, sentenced to one year in the house of correction at Cambridge, from superior court here
last April, on a charge of larceny,
broke away from the officer in charge of him Saturday, and was at large for about one hour before being recaptured in a cellar. Neal was a trusty at the institution, and was delivering ice at the sheriff's residence when he made his escape.
Prison Officer Sleeper, of the house of
correction, was in charge of Neal.
The fugitive received his jail sentence of one year from the local po-

HOW TO ADD STRENGTH, BE HEALTHY

More Happiness and a Longer Life Through Use of Bitro-Phosphate

NEW YORK. Say unto yourself that
from this very day you will steadily
and permanently improve your health;
that you will have calm nerves and
a "stronger" disposition.

Begin now to use Bitro-Phosphate.
Easy to assimilate, has a valuable
therapeutic action upon the whole body, including even the bones, and
with health tonic supplied in the package, the benefit is often reported as next to miraculous.

Improve your blood, your tissues,
your organs. Become stronger. Let natural energy of the true kind replace
your weakness and lack of either will
power or muscular capability.
Take a bitro-seat no longer. Don't be a back number. Reach right now
to the grand possibilities; and realize
that you can show greater strength,
be happier and live longer if you only adopt this simple, safe method. Take a brief treatment of the delightfully efficient Bitro-Phosphate health system. Let the scales—the tape measure, your improving appearance, your increased vitality and nervousness,
your great irritability, inability to concentrate or to remember, and innumerable other troubles of the nerve-

vor of romance most alluring. Other

LAKEVIEW PARK
By a bit of rare good luck, the management of Lakeview park has been able to secure for this week, two special attractions, which are to be entirely free to the public. The first of these comes tomorrow night, when Leavitt and Cronin, ball room dancers, will give one of their best programs. The other will be Wednesday night, when a fine display of fireworks will be given from a place
where everybody may see them in comfort and ease. The fireworks will be set off, weather permitting, of
course, for dampness affects fireworks.
In the meantime, during the afternoon and evening, on the best floor
and with the best music in this neck
of woods.

THE OWL THEATRE
One of the biggest weeks in the history of The Owl theatre begins today, when, for the first three days,
there will be shown a combination of the finished products of two continental stars—Mildred Harris Chapin and Mary Anderson. Anderson, winning this award, are a number of shorter pictures which will give just the right allip of variety.

The Interior Sex is the startling
picture in which Mildred Harris Chapin will be seen. Both star and picture are rated as above the ordinary, and one may get a gleam of the unusualness of the picture theme
through the asking of one question.
"Which is the interior sex?" Surely
we have arrived at the time when every man and every woman may well
ask himself or herself this question.
Or is there an interior sex? And is it
a matter of sex, after all? Is one of the twin interior in character and superior in strength, is one more constant than the other, is one capable
of tremendous sacrifices while the
other can make only the petty ones?
Or are both mixtures of greatness
and smallness, big strokes and little selfish things? This play deals with the problem of a young married woman whose husband vowed eternal love
in the courtship, and then began to slip from his vows and to make fervent love to another woman. There are a lot of questions answered in this stirring dramatic feature, questions which humans have always been asking themselves. Mary Anderson, one of the sweetest of photo-play actresses, will not offer any problem solution in "Bubbles." She will simply place herself before you and show you
as the human spirit who fell in love
without knowing when or where, and
then didn't know just what had
come over her. How she acted in love with a stalwart, how she tried to get away from his influence, and how she
simply couldn't make a sweet, likable
story of the type that everybody has
as worth while. This is a mixture of Polyanna and Mickey, and about everybody knows what that means.
Manager Mack is not stinting his program, for, in addition to this wonderful double headline he is giving an
episode of the "Million Dollar Mystery," a Fox Sunshine comedy and the Fox News.

home of Fred A. Snow in West Chelmsford where District Superintendent
Spaulding presided over the meeting.
Within less than a day after the destruction of the church a sum of $275
was subscribed towards the building
fund by several young men of the town.
Until the new church is completed the
services will be held at Historical Hall
or Marshall's hall.

The committee to solicit funds is as follows: Fred A. Snow, Theodore Robarge, Rudolph Haberman, William Taylor, Edwin Burns, Carl Haberman,
Anthony Anderson, Earl Jordan, Clarence Burns, Mrs. F. S. Bickford and Miss Margaret Reid. The building
committee is as follows: Herbert E.
Fletcher, Fred A. Snow, Clarence Burns,
Earl Jordan, and B. C. Dean.

In the story of the fire that destroyed
the church it was made to appear that
the fire started in the woodshed near
the church and was presumably due to a cigaret or cigar stub carelessly thrown there. A woman living near
the church stated today that the lawn
party held the night of the fire was
not held on the church grounds and
was not conducted by the church. The party, she said, was held in a park
some distance from the church and
was under the auspices of the Grange
and that the fire could not have been
set by the careless act of anybody
connected with the lawn party.

Smith was called to the telephone he found that a fourth Mr. Smith was talking.

In spite of the fact that conditions in
the wall paper field are certainly peculiar and
trying at the present time there are, none-the-
less, a number of factors which portend good
and favorable business in the season to come.

It is perhaps generally known that the
greatest difficulty of the wall paper manufacturer at the present time is the difficulty
of securing raw materials. Or perhaps this condition is not as thoroughly understood as it should be. Suffice then to say that the raw stock upon which wall papers are printed
comes, more or less, under the classification of newsprint paper. Newsprint paper just now,
because of the exceptional demand made for it
by all newspapers throughout the world, has
risen rapidly in price, until it has now reached
an almost exorbitant figure. In fact, newsprint paper, which three or four years ago sold
for 3½ a pound, is now listed by many companies as high as 18c a pound.

Realizing these facts, therefore, it is easy
to understand why wall paper manufacturers
are not able to get all their raw stock for printing which they require and, at the same
time, why they are obliged to pay an excessive
premium for the little they do obtain. Realize

With a knowledge of what supplies and

TRIUMPH FOR THE SUBSIDY HUNTERSBY HARRY B. HUNT.
N.E.A. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 19.—"A triumph for the subsidy hunters," is the phrase by which one authority on commercial and financial matters describes the merchant marine act of 1920, rushed through congress in the closing hours of the last session.

Wherein is the subsidy? How is it granted? How much does it amount to?

Congressman George W. Edmonds of

Do You Need a Kidney Medicine?

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything, but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it may be found just the medicine you need. Swamp-Root makes friends quickly because its mild and immediate effect is soon realized in most cases. It is a gentle healing herb compound—a physician's prescription which has proved its great value in thousands of the most distressing cases according to reliable testimony.

At druggists in large and medium size bottles. You may have a sample size bottle of this always reliable preparation by parcel post, also pamphlet telling about it. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents, also mention The Lowell Sun-Adv.

Pennsylvania, ranking member of the house committee on merchant marine, who explained the bill to the house on presenting it for passage, said:

"There is absolutely nothing in this bill except the postal subvention that could in any way be construed to be a subsidy."

Which is right, the commercial-financial expert or the legislator?

If by "subsidy" is meant a direct appropriation of money from the public treasury, then Edmonds, perhaps, is correct.

If, however, "subsidy" includes grants of special advantages, favors, or of money diverted from the public treasury which otherwise would reach there, then the bill unquestionably does grant subsidies.

For instance—Uncle Sam's revenue laws provide that individuals and corporations must pay into the United States treasury a certain percentage of their income and excess profits.

The Merchant Marine act, however, provides that individuals or corporations owning or operating ships under United States registry may deduct the net earnings of any vessels operated in foreign trade from the amount of income or profits subject to federal taxes, provided such earnings are set aside into a building fund or are used in the construction of new vessels in American shipyards.

Further, any person or corporation

owning vessels, who may sell any vessel at a profit within the next ten years, will be relieved of federal taxes on such profits if they are reinvested in new shipping built in American shipyards.

Such money, of course, is removed from the public treasury as actually as though collected and re-appropriated in a direct subsidy.

Another provision which aids shipping at the expense of the general public is Section 25, permitting the making of discriminating railroad rates in favor of shipments on American vessels.

Such differential rates assist the boat lines, at the expense of the American railroads. And reduced income to the railroads means only more and more freight rate advances which the general public must meet.

A construction loan fund, amounting in five years to $125,000,000, is to be established by the shipping board from the proceeds of vessel sales, from which shipping interests may finance new construction in American yards. Loans from this fund are authorized up to two-thirds of the cost of the boats so financed.

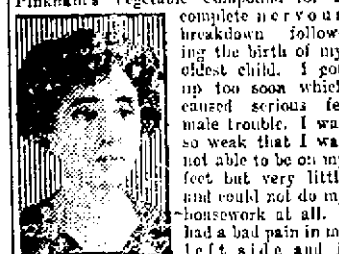

The terms and conditions under which vessels built and owned by the government may be purchased by private interests in themselves may be so advantageous as to amount virtually to a subsidy.

A LETTER
FOR WOMEN

From a Woman Whose Serious Illness Was Overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Garnett, Kas.—I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a complete nervous breakdown following the birth of my oldest child. I got up too soon which caused serious female trouble. I was so weak that I was not able to be on my feet but very little and could not do my housework at all. I had a bad pain in my left side and it would pain terribly if I stepped off a curb-stone. One day one of your booklets was thrown in the yard and I read every word in it. There were so many words I had never heard by your medicine that I wanted to try it and my husband went to town and got me a bottle. It seemed as though I felt relief after the second dose, so I kept on until I had taken five bottles and by that time I was as well as I could wish. About a year later I gave birth to a ten pound boy, and have had two more children since and my health has been fine. If I ever have trouble of any kind I am going to take your medicine for I give it all the praise for my good health. I always recommend your medicine whenever I can.—Mrs. Eva E. SEAT, Garnett, Kansas.

and subsidize their own vessels. If England, for instance, gives special protection and advantages to her shipping which would enable it to monopolize the ocean freights of the world, how far is the United States justified in attempting to equalize conditions even at public expense?

Senator Jones of Washington, chairman of the senate commerce committee and chief sponsor for the merchant marine act, has no apologies to make for any of its provisions.

The conditions against which an American merchant marine must compete, he declares, justify every provision in the act.

"It is necessary," he declares, "for the national defense and for the proper growth of our foreign and domestic commerce, that the United States have a merchant marine sufficient to carry the greater portion of its commerce. And it is the policy of the United States to do whatever may be necessary to develop and encourage the maintenance of such a merchant marine."

EVERY FLOWER HAS A STORY ALL ITS OWN

The anemone expresses withered hopes. That meaning is probably derived from the fact that it withers as soon as it is gathered and is so fragile that the wind destroys it.

Fairy-lore tells us that the delicate veins of the anemone are painted by the fairies and that at night the little creatures cuddle down in the flowers and draw the petals over them as shelter.

Dedicated to Venus

The classical legend states that the anemone was dedicated to Venus because of her tears. One day Venus saw Adonis and fell in love with him. Adonis loved to hunt and Venus, fearing that he might be hurt, warned him to be careful. Adonis laughed at her fears, but when out hunting, a wild boar attacked and killed him. Venus saw the body and wept bitterly. "Your blood shall be transformed into a flower," she exclaimed, "as a memorial of my grief." Then she sprinkled nectar over the blood and a delicate crimson-veined flower sprang up. It is the anemone or wind-flower, so called because this transient flower does not bloom until the wind blows.

Origin of Name

Another interpretation of the name wind-flower is found in a Greek legend. Anemone was a beautiful nymph with whom Zephyr was in love. Flora became jealous and exiled her from court. Far from her lover, Anemone pined away and died of a broken heart. Zephyr pleaded with Venus who transformed Anemone's body into the flower and Zephyr fans her with his wings all day long.

DOPE TRAFFIC ON THE INCREASE

N.E.A. Staff Special
NEUVO LAREDO, Mex., July 19. America is being flooded with "dope."

Today the "drug traffic" in Mexico is the nation's most paying business. Opium, cocaine and heroin are being smuggled across the border in greater quantities than ever before.

While thousands of dollars' worth of "dream stuff" is found each day by federal narcotic operatives along the border, other thousands are finding their way across the Rio Grande.

Mexican officials here say the demand from the United States is growing heavier with each month of prohibition, and that great fortunes are being made in the illicit trade by many influential Mexicans and Americans.

GARDEN NEWS BY THE MIDDLE-SEX COUNTY BUREAU OF AGRICULTURE

The backyard home garden is not unlike the farm in that there is always a lot of work to be done on it. If it is not planting, it is weeding, if it is not weeding, it is cultivating or spraying. There is always something that can be done to advantage.

Many home gardeners are training their tomatoes to a stake. All side shoots should be kept cut off. One should go over his vines at least once a week. Not more than two stems should be permitted to live and bear fruit.

Many home gardeners have harvested their first crop of peas. The pea vines should be pulled and placed in a compost pile for rotting or if one is going to spade the land they may be spaded under. Cabbage and cauliflower plants should be placed where the peas were. If one does not care for these crops it is still not too late to plant winter beets and a late variety of string beans or Victoria spinach.

When one picks New Zealand spinach and it is ready for picking in many gardens, the shoots should be clipped off at the end of the stems also all side shoots which have become long enough. Good young shoots develop in the axils of the leaves which may be harvested in a few days. This process will give one a continual supply of greens.

Many vegetables should be thinned which have not yet been thinned. Swiss chard should not be permitted to stand closer than 6 inches between the plants. In harvesting Swiss chard the outer leaves are picked, other shoots grow from the stem of the plant to take the place of those that have been harvested.

Squash vines are commencing to start running. It is well to cover two or three joints of each runner with earth so that they will take root. This is in order to protect the vine in case the squash vine borer gets into the main stem. A root system will develop at each joint and will save the vine and mature the crop after the main stem is cut off.

Governor Cox, in summarizing the results of the conference, said it brought out that he and the president are "agreed as to the meaning and sufficiency of the democratic platform and the duty of the party in the face of threatened bad faith to the world, in the name of America."

Franklin D. Roosevelt, the democratic candidate for vice president, who also participated in the conference, which lasted about an hour, said "splendid accord" was shown in the conversations between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Cox.

Party leaders here expressed satisfaction today over the results of the 50-hour visit of Governor Cox to the capital. In addition to the conference with Mr. Wilson, the nominee saw a number of senators and other officials before departing for Columbus.

wage, and with the further declaration that if there should be any wage increase it would mean an advance in the price of anthracite to the consumer.

"When we sought, to demonstrate by an inquiry into the monopolistic domination of the industry and its abnormally large earnings, direct and indirect, that our just wage demands could be met and the increase absorbed by the operators out of their profits without an increase in the price of coal to the consumer, we encountered a technical objection from the operators who raised the question as to the jurisdiction of the commission to go into matters of costs, profits and monopoly.

"We submit that we have established beyond contradiction the following points:

"—Anthracite workers are not now receiving a living wage.

"—A living wage in this industry

would be largely in excess of the maximum earnings which the operators show in their own table.

"—Our demand for a minimum wage of $5 per day, with differentials, is reasonable and conservative.

"Therefore, we contend that we have earned the judgment of this commission for our full wage demands on our submission in this phase of the case."

On the question of union recognition, Mr. Murray said:

"There can be no real industrial peace or accelerated production in the anthracite industry until the United Mine Workers of America are given a full and complete recognition of their union. This is no threat. It is merely the statement of a fact. It cannot have, nor does it claim it can have, the influence of the great body of mine workers which it should have until the operators accord it complete recognition."

POLICE HEAD KILLED

Commissioner Smyth Shot at Cork Club—Mail Train is Held Up

BELFAST, July 18.—Commissioner Smyth of the Royal Irish Constabulary was shot dead at the Country Club at Cork last night by 14 armed men who forced their way past the doorman.

Smyth was found by the intruders sitting with friends, one of them Inspector Craig. Several of the men fired point-blank at Commissioner Smyth, who rose, but fell dead while endeavoring to reach the door. Mr. Craig was wounded during the fusillade.

Mr. Smyth was the divisional commissioner for the Munster Royal Irish Constabulary. He was a captain of the 13th Sikhs during the war. He lost his left arm during the fighting and returned to England with the rank of colonel. He received his commission a few months ago.

Mr. Smyth's name figured prominently in the house last week in connection with a speech he made to the police at Listol, County Kerry, June 13, in which it was declared he ordered his men not to be afraid to shoot with effect. He had just returned to Ireland from London where he gave the Irish police an explanation of affairs in Ireland.

No arrests have been made in connection with the killing of Mr. Smyth. People passing the club at the time had no idea that a tragedy was being enacted inside. The shooting was over in a few minutes.

A moving picture show adjacent to the club was closing when the shooting occurred and the murderers easily mingled with the crowd and escaped.

STRENUOUS OPPOSITION TO DANCE HALL

Strong opposition is developing in Pawtucketville against the granting of a license for the opening of a dance hall on the Pawtucket boulevard. An application for such a license has been filed with the license commission and it is understood that a hearing is to be given on the proposition in the near future.

At the morning service of the Pawtucket Congregational church yesterday the subject of a license was under consideration. By a unanimous vote of the congregation it was voted to send the following communication to the license commissioners:

"The Pawtucket Congregational church, assembled on Sunday morning, July 18, 1920, passed a unanimous vote earnestly requesting your honorable board that no license be granted to operate a dance hall on the Pawtucket boulevard.

"Past experience has shown that a dance hall in such a locality with such surroundings has always proved a menace to public morals. And a dance hall operated on the boulevard would surely increase the immorality of this city, as well as have a demoralizing effect upon this section of the city.

"Furthermore, a dance hall on the boulevard would become a public nuisance to this locality by disturbing the peace at late hours of the night, by bringing a crowd here impossible for the police to handle, with all possible corrupting influences.

"Therefore, as a church in this community having the highest interest in the resident people and the citizens of the city, we do hereby unitedly protest against the granting of such a license."

The petition is signed by Rev. A. G. Lyon, pastor; John Bowker, church clerk; and George Vance for the parish committee.

CHATEAU-THIERRY
DEAD EULOGIZED

BOSTON, July 18.—America's heroes died in the world war that we might live, not for ourselves alone, but for the things they died for, building the future for which they made the supreme sacrifice. Rev. Edward T. Sullivan so declared last evening, in a memorial sermon for the men of the 26th Division in the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, and in commemoration of the second anniversary of the beginning of the decisive battle at Chateau-Thierry.

"In the great war," said the speaker, "youth whom we thought immature blossomed suddenly into maturity, because they saw that what makes life and liberty precious was in peril. They set out as bravely as any heroes of the romantic past, offering their lives that the nation might live."

"Manhood has an overweening regard for mortal as distinguished from immortal life. There are times when it is man's duty to die for right and when it is perdition to be saved. We could not see the arrival of those we commemorate tonight in the other world, but we should regard the spirit of death in their case in terms of entrance to that world, not in terms of their leaving us. We know not what vast issues they may help to determine there."

"One hero of the 26th Division, who entered the battle of Chateau-Thierry at 5 a. m. and was wounded at 9 a. m., declared that the intervening period was the most wonderful four hours of his life."

Another, when commiserated on having been wounded, replied simply, "What do you think I came to France for?"

"It is death which makes history."

and puts chivalry, poetry and heroism into life. It is of the toll and pains of men that poets sing. Without those things there could be neither heroes nor saints. Whatever nobles comes from sorrow, struggle and pain. The inspiration of the poets comes from the conquerors of tyrants and from martyrs to the welfare of humanity.

"Men of the 26th Division enriched by their deaths the traditions to be handed down to remote generations. Some men, we know not who, died for each one of us in the world war. Strive to be worthy of the noble dead who wait for you in the other world with outstretched hands."

KAISER'S YOUNGEST SON
COMMITTS SUICIDE

BERLIN, July 18.—(By Associated Press.)—Prince Joachim of Hohenzollern, youngest son of ex-emperor William, committed suicide Saturday in Potsdam.

Joachim is believed to have been in financial straits. He recently was divorced.

Prince Joachim shot himself while in his residence, the villa Letznitz. He was removed to St. Joseph's hospital, where he died a few hours later.

Joachim recently had been suffering from great mental depression. The only member of the former imperial family now in Potsdam is Eitel Frederick, the ex-emperor's second son.

Prince Joachim was born December 17, 1890. He served during the world war on both the western and eastern fronts.

During the first year of the war he was wounded in the fighting in France, and for a long time it was feared that he would not recover.

When he did recover, he was transferred to the Russian front, where he had several narrow escapes from capture and afterward suffered a serious illness.

After the defeat of the Germans, there were rumors that Emperor William would abdicate in favor of Joachim.

Joachim was married in 1916 to Princess Marie Augustine of Anhalt who then was just 17 years old. A dispatch from Paris early this year said Joachim had brought a suit for divorce.

The prince during the war was ranked as a popular hero in Germany. Since the end of the war little has been heard of him. One report was to the effect that he hoped to go to the United States after the peace treaty was signed.

DENY SUICIDE
CAUSED BY SCANDAL

BERLIN, July 18.—(By Associated Press.)—Friends of Prince Joachim of Hohenzollern deny stories current in Berlin that his suicide at Potsdam Sunday was brought about by scandal. They say that, aside from his marital disappointments, the prince, like his brothers, was sadly in need of funds, owing to the limited allowance from the crown funds permitted him by the Prussian government.

Prince Joachim is also reported to have been brooding over the ultimate fate of the former royal house and the criticism to which his father has been subjected in Germany.

Prince Joachim is declared to have been the favorite son of the former German emperor and fears are expressed that the news of his suicide may have a fatal effect on her, as she recently suffered an acute recurrence of her heart trouble.

Ex-Emperor Aborted

DOORN, Holland, July 19.—(By Associated Press.)—The announcement of Prince Joachim's death came to Doorn Castle like a thunderbolt.

The former German emperor, who during the past week has again been seriously troubled by her heart ailment, is believed not to have been informed of the tragedy. The ex-emperor, however, has been told of it and has been greatly affected by the untimely end of his favorite son.

PUBLIC BATH HOUSE

The park department as well as the municipal council is to be congratulated upon the success of the public bath system, opened on the banks of the Merrimack, above Pawtucket falls.

For over a quarter century the Sun has been advocating a system of public baths, and it is now perhaps twenty-five years ago since a little wooden shack was constructed on the bank of the river, near the present bathhouse as a dressing room for those who went in bathing there. Part of it was over the water and our recollection is, that the structure was finally broken up by a flood. Several attempts were made at different times to establish public baths and committees were appointed by the city council for that purpose. These committees contemplated the purchase of expensive property on Middle street or elsewhere to be remodeled after the plan of public baths in other cities. Reports in favor of such schemes were made, but never adopted so that it remained for the city government of last year to decide upon a definite building plan providing for the system now in operation.

The popularity of the public bath house has more than justified the expense. It had long been a reflection on our city that although two great rivers join their waters at the center of the business district and although we have a great canal system, yet we never before had a real system of public baths.

Our people by thousands went to the beaches and adjacent summer resorts to enjoy bathing, because no local facilities were provided for that purpose. The children, boys and girls—yes and hundreds of adults—took chances in the rivers and canals, however, with the result that every year there were from six to twelve drownings.

An effort was made to compute the actual number of drownings in the local waterways and it was found that over a thousand lives were lost altogether, counting not only those who were drowned while bathing—and they constituted the majority—but those who disappeared through the ice while skating. The average was about one drowning a month, a heavy toll to pay for the lack of public baths and a skating park in winter. This was shown by the actual count of the drownings from 1906 to 1913, both included, the numbers for the years in order being 7, 14, 8, 17, 11, 10, 14, 13, making a total of 94 in eight years.

The opening of Shedd park for skating purposes in the winter was a great help toward preventing drownings in the winter season. The public bath house will save a great many lives that would otherwise be lost and in this respect as well as from a sanitary point of view, it is a wise investment.

So popular has it become in fact, that there is likely to be a demand for additional accommodation for bathing purposes along the boardwalk. The bath house is certainly a great success and a great—we may say a life saving benefit to the people of our city.

DRIVE OUT RADICALISM

It can at least be said of both the democratic and republican tickets that they represent true Americanism and that from both parties have been eliminated to a very great extent the "nuts."

The latter species segregated very wisely in a camp of their own and after a strenuous effort to unite on any policy that could be put before the American public without danger of instant repudiation, they split up into warring factions and separated.

The Farmer-Labor ticket to be put in the field will have but an insignificant following. It does not represent the farmer and it did it would not represent the laborer. The honest farmer as well as the honest laborer has no sympathy with the aggregation of cranks that assembled under various labels at Chicago. That there could be no unanimity in a body so divided on principle is not surprising. The fact is, that radicalism, socialism, Bolshevism, anarchism and I. W. Wism are all dwindling where formerly they seemed to be thriving. The recent effort to organize any distinctly radical opposition to the government or the constitution has failed utterly. This is a healthy sign and an indication that the governmental and other forces organized to fight radicalism and everything tending to weaken loyalty to our flag, are fast approaching the vanishing point. In our schools and colleges as well as in the pulpits of certain denominations, there is a decided stand against the teaching or preaching of radicalism and socialism. The eyes of loyal Americans have been opened to the danger arising from allowing teachers or college professors to sow the seeds of disloyalty under the plea of exercising the "right of academic freedom."

There is no such right. The teacher of an elementary school has no right to instill into the minds of the children, the dangerous doctrines of socialism or any other brand of Bolshevism. Neither has the college professor the right either in the class room or on the public platform to advocate radicalism in any form. Every college hereafter must keep its professors under control or be responsible for their conduct and their utterances.

It is not creditable to any institution of learning to have one of its professors go out to carry the Red flag at the head of a procession of anarchists or to be connected with them in any way whatsoever. No such man should be allowed inside of an institution of learning except as a student. There have been some preachers who have prided themselves upon being Christians and socialists at the same time—something which is utterly paradoxical. Real Christianity has nothing in common with the doctrines and ultimate aims of socialism, and it has been demonstrated again and again, that socialism applied as in Russia would abolish and completely overthrow Christianity.

It is the duty of parents to see that their children are not misled into socialism or any form of disloyalty through the influence of teachers or others. Radicalism is under the ban; it is fast disappearing and it is the duty of every true American to help in driving it from these shores.

ENFORCING A MANDATE

It is announced that French troops have started a war upon Syria to enforce the French mandate under the authority of the League of Nations. Part of the conditions of this mandate, so far as announced, indicates that the Syrian people must accept the rule of France, must adopt the French language and currency instead of the language and the form of circulating medium now in use.

We had supposed that the mandate under the League of Nations was intended to protect the weak nations rather than to force upon them a system of tyranny. It must be utterly repugnant to any ancient people such as the Syrians to be obliged to abandon their own language and adopt that of another people wholly foreign to them and apparently unnatural. We do not think the order is just and it is a sample of what is meant by the mandates to be exercised under the authority of the League of Nations then the mandates are likely to be met with vigorous resistance as being utterly opposed to the principle of self-determination.

The upholders of the Irish republic are apparently squaring things up with the British government. The Britons seized a man named Barry who carried some messages to republican officials and a few days after, the republicans raided the Dublin postoffice and carried away all the letters addressed to Dublin castle. Thus by force the new government counters the old.

The republicans, having extracted a "bloody shirt" issue out of the war, are not likely to succeed in their attempt to create another out of the world conflict by demanding Governor Cox because he did not go about beating tom-toms and shouting anathemas against Germany at a time when the nation and most of its people were neutral and hoped that it would be possible to continue so.

Senator Harding reverts the "persistent misrepresentation" of the republican party's attitude toward woman suffrage. But, what about the attitude of those staunch and true republicans, Governors Clement and Holcomb, either of whom could bring about the ratification of the 19th amendment within a few days

by attaching his signature to a call for a legislative session?

With Fortuna and Java sending 100,000 tons of sugar to the United States, perhaps the time may come again when it will be possible to enjoy a second cup of coffee with even a second spoonful of sugar in it without irritating too much the sensitiveness of the nerve that leads to the pocketbook.

An effort is being made by certain labor elements to secure the release of Larkin, the Irish socialist dissembler now serving a sentence in the federal penitentiary here. He made trouble in Ireland and is not wanted by any element in that country except perhaps a few brother socialists.

Now it is the Boston Herald that has made its advent into the ranks of newspaper grammar critics by finding fault with a New York Sun headline, "May the Best Boy Win." Unfortunately the standard of grammatical accuracy established in The Sun by Charles A. Dana has long since departed.

Something "with boiling oil or melted lead" in it, would almost seem to be required as fit punishment for the culprits if it be found that coal operators have been camouflaging exports of fuel by shipping them by way of Montreal.

Seems as though the state commission on the necessities of life, in investigating the closing of the woolen mills, was trespassing on the ground covered by a federal court decision that cloth is not clothing and, therefore, not in the class with necessities.

If Boston does nothing more to celebrate its 160th birthday, two years hence, than to separate the meat shop and public forum that now exist in its historic old "Cradle of Liberty," it will have done one thing worth while.

One man has been locked up in the Suffolk county jail for nearly three years waiting for the courts to pass finally upon his case. This isn't exactly the "justice without delay" that the Massachusetts bill of rights provides for.

There is one bright star of hope shining in the mark of high prices, and that is that even if there is another boost in water rates there will probably be no increase in charges to those who patronize the street drinking fountains.

Some of the contributors to the fund for the perpetual care of cemeteries lots seem to be so unreasonable as to think that juggling with money left in trust for a specific purpose isn't exactly the kind of business that the city should engage in.

With Postmaster Meehan back on the job, after his vacation in sight of the Golden Gate, we may hope to hear before long of "something doing" in connection with the new postoffice in the centre of the city.

The Pawtucket Congregational church hits the nail squarely on the head when it says, in a set of resolutions to be presented to the license commission: "A dance hall operated on the boulevard would surely increase the immorality of the city."

The Sun extends its felicitations to the 25 young women who have successfully passed their examinations and had their names added to the list of Lowell's school teachers. They are starting upon careers of great usefulness.

With a long string of ships carrying American coal across the ocean while New England industries are facing a shut-down for want of fuel, is it possible to imagine a greater farce or tragedy?

Are we to be compelled after all to write "Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these, it might have been" as the epitaph of that proposed new postoffice in Lowell's business center?

The various committees are going into the business of preparing to notify the presidential candidates of their nomination as seriously as though the nominees hadn't seen the newspapers lately. A new bug, the satin moth, has begun to prey on the trees around Boston. Hasn't somebody made a mistake shouldn't it be "satin" instead of "satin"?

Sir Thomas showed that he has the right kind of sporting blood when he said, "I would rather not accept a race won on a fluke."

"Fuel Administrator May be Needed," says a headline. In the name of all the empty coal bins, why "may be" instead of "is"?

SEEN AND HEARD

"There is in the worst of fortune the best of chances for a happy change."

Mr. Johnson never contemplated a bolt, but he was mad enough to attempt to bite a ten-penny nail.

It would take two years to cover the campaign if politicians observed the maxim: "Think twice before speaking."

Wee Gee Says: On his eye there was a shiner and a lump was on his head. But you're wrong, he was no boxer—just an umpire, friend, instead.

Some Horses, We'll Say "Horses" said the American. "Guess you can't talk to me about horses. I had an old mare, Malzypon, who once licked our best express by a couple of miles on a thirty-mile run." "That's nothing," said the Canadian. "I was out on my farm one day, about 50 miles from the house, when a frightful storm came up. I turned the pony's head for home, and, do you know, he raced the storm so close for the last 10 miles that I didn't feel a drop, while my old dog, only ten yards behind, had to swim the whole distance."

Velocity of Light Physicians never tire of efforts to increase the accuracy of their knowledge of the fundamental facts of science. A re-determination of the velocity of light by the Fizeau toothed wheel method was made at Nice. These experiments were remarkable on account of the great distance over which the beam of light employed was transmitted. Previously such a beam had been caused to travel about 15 miles, but on this occasion the reflecting mirror was so placed that the total distance traversed by the beam, going and returning, was 57 miles. The mean of 1109 observations gave for the velocity of light 186,223 1/2 miles a second.

The Auctioneer For three strenuous hours the auctioneer had tried to work his listeners up to the proper pitch of enthusiasm. But either the weather or their lunch had disagreed with them, and they simply wouldn't be aroused. The sale was one of horses, and lot after lot went for very poor prices. At last a sad and sorry animal was led into the ring.

"Now, gentlemen," shouted the auctioneer, "what offers for this lot? Will somebody start the bidding?" There was a pause. Then a voice came slowly from somewhere in the middle of the crowd.

"Two dollars," it said. "Gentlemen, gentlemen!" protested the auctioneer tearfully. "The horse is alive!" Change (Copyright, 1920, N.E.A.) Tell me why Must beauty die, Be it star or be it flower? TO STAGE CONCERT AT LAKEVIEW THEATRE

The minstrel troupe of the Mathew Temperance Institute will stage a concert at the Lakeview theatre on Aug. 22. It was decided at a meeting of the Lakeview Chapel Fund association held yesterday at Lakeview. The association is composed of summer residents of Lakeview and neighboring resorts and has been formed for the purpose of raising funds to erect a chapel at Lakeview.

The troupe will hold a rehearsal next Friday evening at the Mathews' rooms at 5 o'clock under the direction of Francis A. Clarke and inasmuch as the time between now and the date of the concert is brief, it is hoped that every member of the troupe will be present Friday.

The members of the Mathews who will have charge of the concert are the following: Joseph Finnegan, chairman; James McGovern, secretary; Matthew Ryan, Harold McKean, William Ryan, Francis Clarke, Bernard H. Bourke, Thomas J. Tighe, George W. Bowers, Thomas J. Durkin and Arthur M. Flaherty. A committee of five from the Chapel Fund association has been appointed to co-operate with the Mathews, as follows: John Golden, chairman; Elizabeth Sheehy, John Keefe, John McQuade and Stephen Hession.

SERIOUS CONGESTION ON PEKING RAILWAY

THEN TSIEN, July 15.—Railway service with Peking has again been interrupted by a collision near Yangtzu. As a result, there is such a congestion of troop trains from Mukden. A repair train replaced the derailed engine, but was unable to proceed further because of congestion due to the arrival of Anfu troops.

The Peking-Tien Tsin line is single tracked. Haphazard running of trains by inexperienced soldiers is also adding in the almost hopeless confusion.

Nine trains are stalled in one section alone near Yangtzu. The gates to the city of Peking were closed Sunday, to keep out refugees and defeated Anfu troops. One division of Anfu forces has already arrived here from Mukden, another is on its way, and a third is ready to start when trains are available. Fighting has begun on the Chihli-Shantung border. Tien Tsin is quiet.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

"Appropos of the yacht races," said a Sun man in the course of a discussion having to do with the present race between the Resolute and Shamrock. "I happened to be on a liner coming from Liverpool when an incident occurred in the salon that will forever bloom fresh and green in my garden of memories when yacht races are mentioned. We were enjoying, what is quite common on the big liners, an impromptu entertainment and it was real good, too. An Englishman, Sir Somebody, was master of ceremonies and he had us pronounced a cockney accent as one would wish to hear. After calling on several for addresses, recitations, songs, etc., and meeting with ready response on each occasion, the master of ceremonies adding vigor to tone and gesture, announced that it was his happy privilege to introduce Mr. William H. Crane of America, and said:

"I hope the great American actor (with emphasis on the or) will favor the assembly." It was a David Harum grin that William H. Crane, better known to us as Billy—turned on the footstool upon acknowledging the introduction. Billy got up and when he screwed his face and squinted in his inimitable fashion, it appeared to the Americans that David Harum was speaking again, and in mid-ocean. "Ladies and gents," said Billy, assuming his most ludicrous pose, "I think if I can entertain you at all, it will be by relating some of my experiences in London. I had always heard that the English were very slow to arrive at the point of an American joke and at the end of my first visit to London I came away feeling that perhaps there was considerable foundation in fact for the belief. My first experience came while being entertained at a club, and I was being treated right royally, too. It happened to be the year after one of England's unsuccessful attempts to win the American cup and my friends, members of the club, were discussing the failure of the English yachtsmen to defeat the Americans. They could not quite understand why the Americans succeeded in winning on each and every occasion and one asked me if there was any cause I could assign. He called attention to the fact that boats were built in England, tried out in English waters, tryouts and all else were supervised by men familiar with American craft, but yet, with all their good efforts, they were defeated at every turn despite the fact that they go over the measured course there at a rate of speed faster than any boat in previous races covered the same distance in American waters. I said there was no great mystery and that in fact it was perfectly simple. I told him that the water off the Jersey coast was a great deal thicker than the water around the British Isles. That, I said, was the whole story. You may believe me when I tell you that the members of the club seemed dumbfounded. They looked at me in astonishment.

"Mr. Crane," queried one of them, "are you quite sure about that?" "This," said the Sun man, "produced a flood-tide of laughter that rocked the boat and his next almost flooded the salon with mirthful tears. "After answering the question that solved the problem as to America's holding fast to the cup, Mr. Crane continued, another one of the London club party asked me what I saw in London that pleased me most. The thing that pleased me most, I answered, 'I saw in the steamship office on the Strand. It was a ticket to New York.' "I can't see," said one of my auditors, "what there can possibly be about an ordinary ticket to please one so. He looked at me anxiously and said: 'Do you really mean it?' "And while all the passengers in the salon," continued the Sun man, "were splitting their sides with laughter, the master of ceremonies looked about him with an inquisitive air as much as to say, 'What in the world are you laughing at?' This increased the laughter to such an extent that the boat actually lurched."

I have watched these past few weeks a most industrious neighbor tending as fine a garden of potatoes as any local embryo farmer can boast. I have felt a compelling personal interest in his little farm because I have observed that early and late, before going to his daily work and just after his evening meal, he is there, smoking his pipe, spraying the budding potato plants with bug-killer and then with water, until today the garden shows up splendidly. Passersby have stopped to look at the wonderful array of plants, and those of us who know the personal effort and attention our gardener neighbor has put in are ready to admit that it will be a crying shame if his labors did not yield a harvest commensurate with the time, energy and money he has expended.

WOMAN ANNOUNCES HER CANDIDACY GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 15.—Mrs. Aletha Wheeler of Grand Rapids, a typewriter operator, employed in the government printing office at Washington, D. C., today announced her candidacy for the republican congressional nomination in the Fifth Michigan district. Mrs. Wheeler said:

"I am a laboring woman. I think laboring women should have representation in the halls of congress. Through my work in Washington, I am more or less familiar with the workings of congressional politics and I believe I could fill the bill if chosen."

POLES IN RETREAT SOUTH OF VILNA

LONDON, July 15.—The Bolsheviks, according to a communique issued at Moscow Sunday, are energetically pursuing the Poles southwest of Vilna. In the direction of Lida and Baranovitch, they say they have reached important points to the eastward of Baranovitch.

"We occupied the line of the river Lan, west of Slutsk," adds the communique. "An enemy attack on Dubno was repulsed with severe losses." On the Gliman front, fierce fighting is reported to the south of Czekhoff.

News of the Churches

The usual summer schedule of services was carried out in all the Catholic churches yesterday with large congregations in attendance.

St. Patrick's Large numbers of the faithful received communion at the 7 o'clock and other early masses at St. Patrick's church yesterday. The late mass was a low mass, in accordance with the summer schedule and the vesper services were largely attended.

Immaculate Conception Rev. Albert McDermott, O.M.I., of Buffalo, N. Y., celebrated the late mass at the Immaculate Conception church yesterday, and the pastor, Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O.M.I., read the announcements.

The O.M.I. Cadets will meet tomorrow evening at 7.30, and inasmuch as this will be the last meeting before the members leave for their summer encampment, a large attendance is expected.

Sacred Heart The Holy Angels sodality of the Sacred Heart church received communion at an early mass yesterday. Rev. John H. Doherty, O.M.I., was the celebrant and Rev. John F. Flynn, O.M.I., the pastor, gave communion.

St. Peter's Rev. Francis L. Shea celebrated the 11 o'clock mass at St. Peter's church yesterday and also read the announcements. The girls of the parish will receive communion at the 8.30 o'clock mass next Sunday.

St. Michael's Large numbers of the faithful received communion at the early masses at St. Michael's church yesterday. The girls of the parish were also largely attended.

The usual schedule of services was carried out at St. Margaret's and St. Columba's churches yesterday.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS by Olive Roberts Barton.

MR. ORIOLE'S HOME

"My! My!" exclaimed Tingaling, the fairyman landlord of the Land-of-Deer-Knows-Where. "I plumb forgot all about Oliver Oriole's rent. Come on, twins, bring the pocket-book and the lead-pencil and we'll go get it right away. The tailoring business must be good this year, so no doubt Oliver has barrels of money. He's a very popular tailor, you know."

Now Oliver's apartment was a little bit hard to reach, being the most exclusive one in the Maple-Trees Flats, and, if it hadn't been for the Magical Green Shoes the twins wore, and Tingaling being a fairy, they never could have got there at all.

Even Scramble Squirrel couldn't go calling, nor Chick Chickaree, and certainly Oscar Owl, and Corry Con couldn't find their way at night to Oliver's front door, for what do you suppose? His flat was out at the tip of end of a tiny branch that was not thicker than the knitting needle your mother (or maybe your grandma) knits your mittens with. And every time a breeze blew, Oliver's apartment bobbed up and down like a sea-saw. How he ever managed to cut waistcoats without shipping them, I'm sure I don't know, and how he ever basted trousers without pinning them, I don't know either.

But he managed very well where he was. And his wife liked, for not only did her babies get rocked to sleep regularly without any trouble to her, but it was a relief not to have to clean up chips as she used to, when they lived right under the Flickers. You remember, don't you, how the South Wind and the fairies moved them to the end of the branch?

Well, Tingaling and the twins soon found themselves at Oliver's front door and tapped gently.

MADE GARRISON FINISH

Washing Machine Makers
Trowned by Pitts' South
Ends, Saturday

Coming from behind in vigorous fashion and wiping out an early lead that augured success for their opponents, Pitts' South Ends defeated a team representing the Gillespie Mfg. company on the South common Saturday afternoon, 5 to 2.

The washing machine men trotted out one Smith of Nashua as their representative in the box and for the innings the up-state twirler had things to his liking, but in the sixth Wally Lyons began hollering a little louder than usual for signs of life and his charges responded with three runs giving the South Ends the tall end of a 4-2 score. Another in the seventh made it 5-2 and here the figures stood when the game ended.

Lonnie Devlin, who had twirled for the South Ends Friday, tried to repeat Saturday but the strain was too much and Buckley was brought in from the outfield to take his place. He made good in emphatic fashion. McVey, of the winners got two triples while McMahon, Buckley and Wise also figured prominently at the bat with doubles.

NEW SKIPPER LIKELY

Designer Nicholson May Replace Capt. Burton at Shamrock's Wheel

SANDY HOOK, N. J., July 19.— Speculation above and below decks of the America's racing fleet at anchor today in the horseshoe centered upon the successor to Captain William F.
Burton, whom Sir Thomas Lipton plans to remove as skipper of the cup challenger.

Captain Albert W. Turner, sailing master of the Lipton sloop, who had the wheel of the Shamrock when she made some of her gains in Saturday's race, was being talked of as Sham-rock's new skipper. It was said that Captain Turner would be given the wheel tomorrow and that Captain Burton would sail on the challenger,

though he would not handle the tiller,
but this was not confirmed.
Sir Thomas has not said who would succeed Captain Burton, but has told his friends that he likes Designer
Nicholson. Colonel Duncan F. Neil, Sir Thomas' representative on the Shamrock, and Captain Alfred Grier, of the 23-metre Shamrock, are also under consideration. It is understood, for the Shamrock's which. No information could be obtained as to whether Mrs.
Burton would continue as timekeeper of the Shamrock. Grey members with superstitious tendencies believe a woman should not sail on a cup racing yacht.

The disposal of the Resolute, has been ruled at City Island and will be held on this afternoon. It was a new sail and showed signs of stretching after the wetting in last Thursday's rain squall. The staysail of Shamrock has also been ruled.

The race tomorrow will be over a 30-mile triangular course, 10 miles to a leg. Saturday's triangular contest having been called off because the sloop could not finish the rules provide that the race should be recalled
on the next succeeding race day.

WILL WEAR AMERICAN

SHIELD AT ANTWERP

BOSTON, July 19.—More than 100 of the leading athletes of the country were selected to represent the United States in the Olympic games to be held at Antwerp, Belgium, next month, at an all-night session of the American Olympic committee, which ended yesterday. The selections were based almost entirely upon the showing made in the final trials at the Harvard university stadium Saturday when more than 20,000 spectators saw America's best track and field stars competing for the privilege of wearing the red, white and blue shield in the seventh Olympiad.

The distribution of team place honors covers the entire country in addition to the selection of several athletes from the army and navy. Although a majority of the men named for Antwerp have athletic club affiliations, most of them are famous college stars.

Members of the Olympic committee and the board of coaches expressed the opinion that the 1920 team is the best balanced and the strongest combination ever named to represent the United States in international athletic competition. Four world's record holders appear on the list: E. "Red" Meredith, D. F. Abner, P. K. Fox and Pat Ryan. Two winners of first places at the Stockholm Olympic of 1912 also are members of the team in Meredith
and Pat McDonald, the welchman.

The east leads in places won with 67 names, divided as follows: New York A. C. 22; Boston A. A. 10; Mend-enbrook club, Philadelphia, 6; colleges, 5; Illinois A. C. New York, 4; smaller clubs, 15, unattached, 4. The middle west secured 43 places with the Chicago A. A. leading with 21; Illinois
A. C. having seven, and scattered colleges, 15. The far west and Pacific coast placed 32, the Olympic club of San Francisco having 15, Los Angeles
A. C. 11, colleges, 5 and Multnomah A.
C., Portland, Ore., 1. Southern collegians won three places for their section. The navy gained six places and the army three.

THOMSON WILL REPRESENT CANADA

MONTREAL, July 19.—The track and field team which will represent Canada in the Olympic games at Antwerp was announced here today. Selections were made from contestants
in the meet held here yesterday by the Montreal Amateur Athletic association.

The athletes chosen and the events
follow:
Alex. Panton, Ontario, 100 and 200
metres.
Hector Phillips, Ontario, 100 and 200
metres.
Thomas Town, Manitoba, and Ed
Lawrence, Quebec, 100, 200 and 400
metres.
Earl Thomson, Saskatchewan, 110 metre hurdles, 400 metres and pentat-lon.
E. C. Friedman, Ontario, walks.
Archie McBurnie and John McCar-tern, both of British Columbia, 50-pound weight and hammer throw.
W. F. Kennedy of Montreal, jumper, who was unable to compete in the trials because of illness, will be given a private trial when he recovers. It was announced.

ALLIED SHOE WORKERS

At a recent meeting of the Allied Shoe Workers' union the following of-

to make arrangements.

BILLERICA CAMPERS
IN AUTO SMASH

WOBURN, July 19.—Russell Mahler of Tibbett's Town Way, Charlestown, chauffeur for Sidney Stevens of 1 Mason street, Brookline, is locked up at the police station here, charged with drunkenness and with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Five of his friends are at the Chester Memorial hospital as a result of injuries sustained when the limousine in which they were riding which Mahler was operating, ran into the brick building of the Woburn Machine company at 3 o'clock yesterday morning.

MAHLER, WHO DROVE THE CAR, HAD, IT was said here, borrowed the limosine without asking the consent of his employer. The party had been at Pinehurst in Billerica, had made a flying night trip to Boston and was on the way back to the camp at Pinehurst.

Johnston in Melford and in Winchester had made ineffectual efforts to stop the car as it sped through those two municipalities. The machine was endeavoring to negotiate the turn on Main street near Fowle street here,
when it side-swiped an electric light pole, crossed the sidewalk and crashed into the brick wall of the Woburn Machine company building.

CORK QUIET AFTER STREET FIGHTING

ties in last night's street fighting,
which was occasioned by excitement
over the killing of John Burke at Belfast, occurred in the northern part of the city. After midnight the streets were comparatively quiet with the military patrolling them. There was an occasional volley of shots, however, up to two o'clock.

GRANTVILLE VS. WAREFIELD

With one of the largest crowds of the season on hand to watch the fun,
the nine representing the All of Wob-urn Co. of Grantville, defeated a strong team representing Warefield at Grantville Saturday afternoon, 11 to 2.
Before his chess losses, the game
was marked by a series of brilliant plays, Eddie Cawley and "Bird" Falls
featuring for the winners and Yeague for Warefield. Next Sunday the All of Woburn will meet a team representing H. P. Hall & Sons of Boston
at Grantville.

RECEPTION TO SULLIVAN

At a special session of the CYMEL yesterday morning at the organization's rooms in Suffolk street arrangements were discussed for a reception to Honorary Sir John Sullivan, who returned from England where he is now preparing to swim the English channel. President Martha H. Gowan presided and a subcommittee was appointed to co-operate with the officers in bringing domestic plans at a later meeting.

in the recent civil service examinations for postmaster of North Chelmsford, has been officially notified of his appointment to the position, the appointment being subject to confirmation by the senate when it reconvenes.
Mr. Valentine will take up his new duties shortly after the receipt of his commission and as soon as convenient he will remove the postoffice to his grocery store. The young man is but 23 years of age and at present is following a course of law at Boston university.

Zoe Beckley Home From France Tells Tragic Tale of Paris Clothes

BY ZOE BECKLEY
(N.E.A. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 19.—Paris—and clothes! Haven't they always been synonymous in your mind? They have in mine. It was only after a weary experience searching for a good looking inspirations from the gods of art and fashion.

Hear, then, sisters, the tragic story: Like every other feminine creature, who had dreamed of going to Paris and buying clothes, I set about figuring how I could acquire

COOLMOR

WIND-SAFE SELF-HANGING PORCH SHADES

MADE UNDER PATENT LICENSE

When the weather is stilling hot, you can sleep comfortably on a porch if it is protected with COOLMOR Wind-Safe Self-Hanging Porch Shades. Outsiders cannot see you through COOLMOR Shades, but the air circulates through them, while all drafts are avoided.

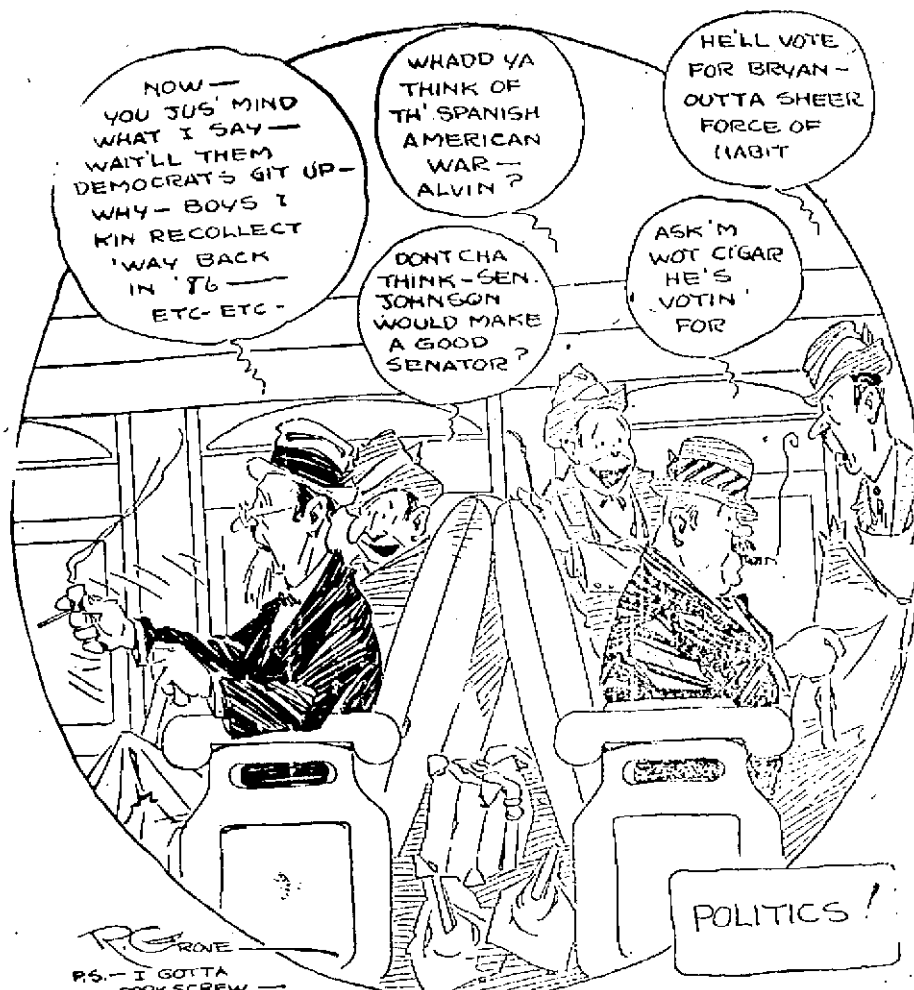

Their rich and harmonious color combinations add greatly to the appearance of even the finest homes.

It doesn't cost very much to turn an ordinary day porch—even one exposed and close to the street—into a sleeping porch at night, that will permit you to enjoy sound sleep, which would be impossible indoors. When morning comes, your night porch is a day porch again in two minutes without any work at all.

Let us show you the COOLMOR Self-Hanging features with paper patterns, which enable you unaided to hang a shade in five minutes.

THE BOYS IN THE OTHER CAR

Drecoli, Cherult, Lanvin and Pairet!

A French Saleswoman

In order to be shown the models at these sacred houses, you must be introduced by some patron they know.

Just say

Otherwise—you might be an American designer trying to steal ideas!

The next step is to be assigned a vendeuse (French for saleswoman). This person immediately adopts you. She will lay aside for you choice bargains, and when the collection is sufficient to tempt you beyond human resistance, she will send a little note to "Chere Madame" that there are three ravishing blouses, an enchanting evening frock, an afternoon gown of a smartness and a regality that children of which seem to have been created for chere madame, and will chere madame please have the appreciated complaisance to come and look at them?

Depths of Despair

Well, my tailored frock, made at the small tailor's, turned out such a tragedy that I cannot even write of it without shivering my typewriter with tears. Don't ask what was the matter. Everything was. It was far worse than I should have been thin; short, where it should have been long, and it ended in a where it should have been beautiful. In it I looked exactly like a Dutch farm lady, rigged out by the local dressmaker, to visit the big town for the first time in her life.

I withdrew to my hotel and wept. "I cannot walk down the ramp, plank in that thing!" I howled. "I dare not go home in such a Paris doll! And the steamer sails tomorrow!"

In despair I donned the awful costume and went to the elegant shop in the Place Vendome.

"Mademoiselle Augustine," I gasped to my little vendeuse, "believe me, I am there no help!"

"Alas, madame," she responded, regarding my fat suit sadly, "there is not time for us to make you a tailor. And madame knows we never sell our models until the end of the season. It is indeed heartrending."

I retired to the hotel and had more hysterics. After a time I sought consolation in dinner. But the dinner was fast and ashes. The Police Bergere was even worse.

At Last a Suit

That night, when I crawled to my hotel, upon the bed lay a little package.

and with a note in French tied to the string.

"Mademoiselle Augustine presents her compliments and sends a little suit found by searching through all the models. Mlle. Augustine has persuaded the managers to permit madame to have it. Mlle. Augustine prays and believes it will be appropriate for madame and console her for the sadness of the other."

On wings of joy I sped to the Place Vendome, embracing the little vendeuse with one arm while I wrote a check with the other.

But I shall spend no more time envying women who "buy their clothes in Paris."

CAUSE OF WAR

The Texas Police Hold Women's Dress Responsible

BY JACK CARBERRY.

N.E.A. Staff Correspondent

HOUSTON, Tex., July 19.—"The 1920 girl's taste in dress is a form of insanity; 23 one-hundredths of all social evils in the world are due to the present day styles; modern mothers are letting their children go to the devil without as much as fitting a hand to stop them."

Such is the unqualified statement of Police Superintendents G. J. Lacy and C. G. McGraw, in a signed statement reporting the findings of a six-months' probe of southern crime causes. They say:

Booze, environment and defective mentality have been branded as the causes of crime. It is a mistake. These three features play their part; they produce but one one-hundredth of the crime committed.

Ninety-nine one-hundredths may be traced to women's clothes.

It is possible to include everything from the divorce evil to the late world war to what women wear—or don't wear.

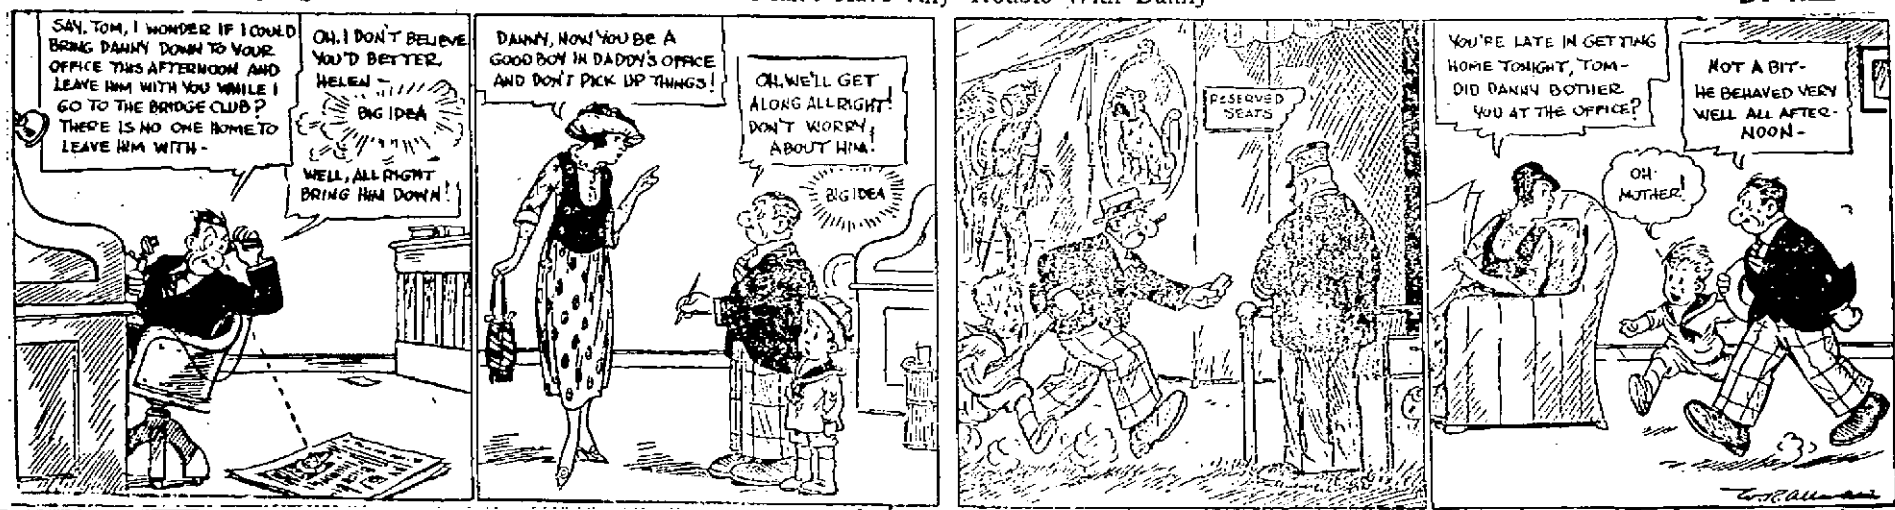

Our investigation has caused us to pause, worry and wonder: "What is the world coming to?"

The report is silent on men's share of the "responsibility for the social evil."

EXPLOSION
BURIES EIGHTMiners Entombed in Union Collieries Co. Shaft Near Pittsburg, Pa.Help Rushed to Scene—No News Until Entrance Is ForcedPITTSBURG, July 18.—John Lute-
man, night foreman, two fire bosses,
two pumpers and three laborers were entombed by an explosion in the mine of the Union Collieries Co. at Renton, 18 miles from here, at 3:30 o'clock this morning. The explosion blew the cage out of the shaft, and as soon as repairs to the hoisting apparatus can be made, rescue crews will endeavor to find the buried men.The bureau of mines and the offices of the Union Collieries Co.
here are without further information
than that an explosion of unknown cause had occurred.Officials of the company said that until an entrance is made in the mine, nothing can be determined.COX CONFERS ON PLANS FOR CAMPAIGNCOLUMBUS, O., July 19.—Conferences on democratic campaign plans engaged Governor Cox, the party standard bearer, immediately upon his return today from Washington, accompanied by Franklin D. Roosevelt, his running mate.Homer S. Cummings, chairman, and many men and women members of the national committee, arrived today for the meeting of the full committee tomorrow and kept Governor Cox busy with discussions of selecting a campaign manager, speaking tours, finances and other affairs.The governor declined today to reply to the statement of Senator Harding,
his republican opponent, calling for a bill of particulars of the governor's conference with President Wilson.Stating that he was "very much pleased" with the results of his talk with the president, Governor Cox reiterated, with respect to Mr. Harding's statement, that he would not engage in a wire debate with the opposition."In my speech of acceptance," said
the governor, "I will answer all that I deem requires an answer."WILL LAY OFF
12,000 WORKERSPHILADELPHIA, July 19.—A 10 per cent. reduction in the working force of the Pennsylvania railroad will be made this week, it was announced here today at the company's office.In the eastern region alone, which takes in the territory east of Altoona, between 11,000 and 12,000 workers will be laid off, it was stated.

F. Shea of the Boston and Maine railroad the number of cars that are now being made available to local shippers is within nearly ten per cent. of their requirements.Figures compiled by W. P. Whitcomb of the chamber of commerce show that a total of 399 cars were placed on mill sidings and private tracks for loading last week. On one day one of the mills was given a car in excess of its requirements and this was later turned over to other shippers. On Wednesday the Tremont & Suffolk, Massachusetts, Hamilton and Boot
mills had so nearly caught up with their shipping needs that each one of them asked for but a single car, which was supplied.The number of cars furnished to the mills during the week, according to Mr.

STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

Wilfred J. Bourassa of 42 Beaver st., this city, was the driver of the automobile which struck Alfred Lafrance of 6
Butler street, Lawrence, at the corner of Lowell street and Broadway in Lawrence, last Thursday. Lafrance is 67 years old and is convalescing from in-this afternoon what developments might

would he deny that he and his advisers
on the steam yacht Victoria had virtually decided to remove Capt. Burton from the title of the cup challenger after Saturday's contest in which Capt. Bur-

been severely criticized.Sir Thomas was somewhat perturbed
when he read in the newspapers of plans for supplanting Capt. Burton."Capt. Burton will be at the wheel tomorrow, I understand," said Sir Thomas. "After that I cannot say, and of course, I will not talk about it."It was the general belief aboard the Victoria today that Capt. Burton had asked for another chance to sail the challenger and that it had been granted him. Capt. Burton could not be seen.

CLEMENT'S VETOVermont Suffragists Will

If NecessaryWill Strive For Vote If Amendment Is Not Ratified
by NovemberBURLINGTON, Vt., July 19.—If the suffrage amendment is not ratified
by the necessary 35th state in time for the presidential election, Vermont suffragists will endeavor to obtain the right to vote for president in November, by appealing to the United States supreme court to rule as illegal Governor Clement's veto of the presidential suffrage bill that was passed by the Vermont legislature last year. If the supreme court does this, suffragists say, Vermont women will be allowed to vote. This statement was issued this morning at suffrage headquarters here, and it is understood that local leaders are working with approval of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, national leader of the suffrage movement. If an injunction can be secured, it may hold up the vote cast in Vermont for president.In fact, the statement issued today states that "the validity of the entire vote cast in Vermont for president"
may rest on the ruling of the supreme court.Suffragists claim that Governor Clement had no legal right to veto
the presidential suffrage bill by which 14 states have given women
the right to vote for president. They hold the veto to be illegal but state that they took no action before because they believed that Vermont
and other states would soon make up the required 35 to ratify the suffrage amendment.FACES TRIAL FOR

to life terms in state prison.Balzarano's two alleged confederates

Union Before Anthracite CommissionSCRANTON, Pa., July 19.—In arguing for the mine workers before the anthracite mine commission here
today, Phillip Murray, vice president of the union, declared the outstanding development of the hearings which are drawing to a close, is "the establishment for all time in this industry of the principle of the living wage.""The operators have declared repeatedly their acceptance of this principle and their purpose to adhere to it, and have stated that the sole point of difference with us is one of fact, as to what constitutes a living wage and how it should be determined," Mr.
Murray continued. "It was not until the cross-examination that we secured from the operators the amazing statement that a mine worker can live and support a family on American standards on a wage of $3.34 per day. That is their translation of the principle of the living wage into concrete figures; that is their measure of the worth of a man under present day conditions. Mr. Hu-ber's $3.34 per day, plus Mr. War-riner's cows and chickens, fresh air and beautiful scenery, furnished us
by the operators without price to us and without cost to themselves, comprise the sum total of their contribution to the information of the committee as to how to determine and what to fix as a living wage for 152,000 workers.""Our demands have been met by the operators with the contention that they are now paying us a living wage."

BURIES DAUGHTER IN HIS BACKYARD

N.E.A. Staff Special
TOMAH, Wis., July 18.—Mary-Rain-
in-the-Face, daughter of Spoon Deco-
rah, Winnebago Indian and Civil war
veteran, is buried in her father's back
yard.

"I bury her there," grunted Spoon Decorah, "that I may see her grave on the moonlight nights."

Spoon Decorah, long a follower of
the white man's ways, wouldn't bury
his child, when she died recently, according to the tribal fashion, but neither would he heed the counsel of his
the churchyard here.

"She lived by me and now I shall
have her by me," he declared and because he is a G.A.R. veteran no one
interfered.

Spoon Decorah has the white name,
"John Sherman." He enlisted in the Third Wisconsin Regimental Infantry
and was with Sherman on the march
to the sea. Mary-Rain-in-the-Face
traced her ancestry through her father to the queen of the Decorah family—Glory-of-the-Morning. The family is one of the most prominent of
the Nebraska and Wisconsin tribes of

social functions attended the annual

credit on Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O.M.I., who was in general charge of
the event, the other priests of the
parish and a hustling corps of assisting committees. The midway, with
its wealth of varied attractions, gave
pleasure and amusement to thou-

general committee in charge of the
party will meet Friday evening, to make a report.

John F. Neal, sentenced to one
year in the house of correction at Cambridge, from superior court here
last April, on a charge of larceny,
broke away from the officer in charge of him Saturday, and was at
large for about one hour before being recaptured in a cellar. Neal was a trustee at the institution and was delivering ice at the sheriff's residence when he made his escape.
Prison Officer Sleeper, of the house of
correction, was in charge of Neal.
The fugitive received his jail sentence of one year from the local po-

of the week at The Strand includes that big special production, "The Dead-Her Sex," with Blanche Sweet as the star, and a bright and snappy comedy
in which Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran are featured, entitled "Nothing But the Truth." Both are unusually good photoplays and should meet with the general approval of the patrons. Besides the above there will be the usual run of a Weekly and comedy, as well as musical numbers by Miss Jo-

More Happiness and a Longer Life
Through Use of Bitro-Phosphate

NEW YORK. Say unto yourself that
from this very day you will steadily
and permanently improve your health;
that you will have calm nerves and
a "bright" disposition.
Begin now to use Bitro-Phosphate.
Easy to assimilate, has a valuable
therapeutic action upon the whole
body, including even the bones. And this health-giving agent in the package, the benefit is often reputed as
next to miraculous.

Improve your blood, your tissues,
your organs, become stronger, let
natural energy of the true kind replace
your weakness and lack of either will
power or muscular capability.

Take a back seat no longer. Don't be a back number. Awaken right now
to the grand possibilities, and realize
that you can show greater strength,
be happier and live longer if you only
adopt the simple, truthful method of treatment of the delightfully
efficient Bitro-Phosphate health system. Let the scales, the tape measure, your improving appearance, your calm forehead and your accomplishment glow themselves from day to day.

In cases where persons were "all run down" they have reported considerable weight increase, in cases of nervousness, great irritability, inability to concentrate or to remember, and in numerous other troubles of the nerve-or mind, where the phosphoric element was essential, the Bitro-Phosphate benefit, according to the reports of enthusiastically cheerful users.

Bitro-Phosphate is not a patent medicine. It is sold under a $300 guarantee. It is recommended by able physicians. You may obtain a booklet giving further information by writing to feature, which opened a three days' engagement at the Merrimack Square theatre this afternoon, is particularly enjoyable entertainment because the plot is anything but trite and time-worn. It has dramatic spice and a fla-

LAKEVIEW PARK

By a bit of rare good luck, the
management of Lakeview Park has
been able to secure for this week, two
special attractions, which are to be entirely free to the public. The first
of these comes tomorrow night, when Leatrice and Cecily, ball of interest and variety, will give one of their best programs. The other will be Wednesday night, when a fine display of fire-
works will be given from a place
where everybody can see them in comfort and safety. The fireworks will be set off, weather permitting, of
course, for dampness affects fireworks.
In the meantime, dancing every afternoon and evening, on the lawn
and in the best music in this neck
of woods.

THE OWL THEATRE

One of the biggest weeks in the history of The Owl theatre begins today, when, for the first time, a remarkable combination of the finest known stars—Mildred Harris Chaplin and Mary Anderson. And, surrounding this team, are a number of other pictures which will give just the right fling of variety.
"The Interior Sex" is the startling
picture in which Mildred Harris Chaplin will be seen. Both star and picture are rated as above the ordinary, and one may get a gleam of the unusualness of the picture theme
through the asking of one question.
"Which is the interior sex?" Surely
we have arrived at the time when every man and every woman may well
ask himself or herself this question.
Or is there an interior sex? And is it
a matter of sex after all? Is one of the two interior in character and
superior in strength, is one more constant than the other, is one capable
of tremendous sacrifices while the
other can make only the petty ones?
Or are both making a game of sex
and smallness, big strokes and little
selfish things? This play deals with
the problem of a young married wom-
an whose husband vowed eternal love
to her, but then she found him to be
slip from his vows and to make fervent love to another woman. There
are a lot of questions answered in this sterling dramatic feature, questions which human beings have always been asking themselves. Mary Anderson, one of the sweetest of photo-play actresses,
will not offer any problem for solution in "Dubbles." She will simply place herself before you and show you
as the human spirit who fell in love
without knowing when or where, and
then didn't know just what had
come over her. How she acted in love with a stranger, how she tried to get away from his influence, and how she
simply couldn't make a sweet likable
story of the type that everybody falls
as worth while. This is a mixture of Polynesian and Minkler, and about everybody knows what that means.
Manager Mack is not stinting his program. For in addition to this wonderful double headline he is giving an
episode of the "Million Dollar Mystery," a Fox Sunshine comedy and the
Fox News.

TO REBUILD WEST CHELMSFORD CHURCH

At the second quarterly conference of the West Chelmsford Methodist church Friday evening it was voted to start plans for the building of a new church
to replace the one burned down Friday morning. Lacking the church meeting room, the conference was held in the
home of Fred A. Snow in West Chelms-
ford where District Superintendent
Spaulding presided over the meeting.
Within less than a day after the destruction of the church a sum of $275
was subscribed towards the building
fund by several young men of the town.
Until the new church is completed the
services will be held at Historical hall
or Marshall's hall.

follows: Fred A. Snow, Theodore Hobbs, Rudolph Haberman, William Taylor, Edwin Burne, Carl Haberman,
Anthony Anderson, Earl Jordan, Clarence Burne, Mrs. F. S. Bickford and Miss Margaret Reid. The building
committee is as follows: Herbert E.
Fletcher, Fred A. Snow, Clarence Burne,
Earl Jordan, and B. C. Dean.

In the story of the fire that destroyed
the church it was made to appear that
the fire started in the woodshed near
the church and was presumably due to
a cigar or cigar stub carelessly
thrown there. A woman living near
the church stated today that the lawn
party held the night of the fire was
not held on the church grounds and
was not conducted by the church. The
party, she said, was held in a park
some distance from the church and
was under the auspices of the Grange
and that the fire could not have been
set by the careless act of anybody
connected with the lawn party.

Smith was called to the telephone he found that a fourth Mr. Smith was talking.

An extract taken from an article entitled "The Outlook for the New Season," printed in "The Decorative Furnisher."

In spite of the fact that conditions in
the wall paper field are certainly peculiar and
trying at the present time there are, none-the-
less, a number of factors which portend good
and favorable business in the season to come.

It is perhaps generally known that the
greatest difficulty of the wall paper manufacturer at the present time is the difficulty
of securing raw materials. Or perhaps this
condition is not as thoroughly understood as it should be. Suffice then to say that the raw
stock upon which wall papers are printed
comes, more or less, under the classification of newsprint paper. Newsprint paper just now,
because of the exceptional demand made for it
by all newspapers throughout the world, has
risen rapidly in price until it has now reached
an almost exorbitant figure. In fact, news-
print paper, which three or four years ago sold
for 3½ a pound, is now listed by many companies as high as 18c a pound.

Realizing these facts, therefore, it is easy
to understand why wall paper manufacturers
are not able to get all their raw stock for
printing which they require and, at the same
time, why they are obliged to pay an excessive
premium for the little they do obtain. Realize

We print the above to show our customers what is what for the coming year. As yet we have a good stock bought at prices nearly 50 per cent. under the prevailing prices. These patterns were chosen from the entire offerings of a dozen of the largest Wall Paper factories—chosen only after three months of the hardest kind of work on the part of three experienced Wall Paper men. Every pattern was chosen for some particular need and all have "Artistic Merit and Decorative Value"
such as can be obtained only when one thoroughly understands local conditions and needs.

Here you can find just the paper most suited to your needs. Our salespeople fully understand the uses of each pattern and are always glad to offer you helpful hints.

the New Season," printed in "The Decorative Furnisher."

For a moment that an ordinary roll of wall paper weighs as much as several pounds in certain cases. Multiply this weight by anywhere from 100 to 150 a pound, and the dealer can understand why wall paper is bound to be high in price, not to take into consideration the cost of designs, blocks, colors, production and distribution charges.

But let the high cost of materials, supplies,
labor and manufacturing stand aside for a discussion of the brighter aspects of the case.

With a knowledge of what supplies and
materials are costing him today, the wall paper manufacturer in the future, will see to it that the quality of his product is raised all along the line. In other words, he will not feel like asking a high price for a cheap looking paper;
but he will have no scruples in asking a high,
fair price for a good looking, artistic paper.
The dealer, therefore, who he will be asked to pay higher prices for papers in the season to come, will really get "value received," and more, for this new price.

For as the quality of the goods he orders ascends the scale, so will his clients be more satisfied and his business develop accordingly.
Wall papers in the past were too frequently looked upon as nothing more or less than cheap PAPER. In the future, the item of paper will be more or less overlooked and wall paper will be merchandised by the dealer and purchased by the public as a thing of artistic merit and decorative value.

Realizing these facts, therefore, it is easy
to understand why wall paper manufacturers
are not able to get all their raw stock for
printing which they require and, at the same
time, why they are obliged to pay an excessive

TRIUMPH FOR THE SUBSIDY HUNTERS

BY HARRY B. HUNT,
N.E.A. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 19.—A triumph for the subsidy hunters. The phrase by which one authority on commercial and financial matters describes the merchant marine act of 1920, rushed through congress in the closing hours of the last session.

Wherein is the subsidy? How is it granted? How much does it amount to?

Congressman George W. Edmunds of

Do You Need a Kidney Medicine?

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything, but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it may be found just the medicine you need. Swamp-Root makes friends quickly because its mild and immediate effect is soon realized in most cases. It is a gentle healing herbal compound—a physician's prescription which has proved its great value in thousands of the most distressing cases according to reliable testimony.

At druggists in large and medium size bottles. You may have a sample size bottle of this always reliable preparation by parcel post, also pamphlet telling about it. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents. Also mention The Lowell Sun.

Pennsylvania, ranking member of the house committee on merchant marine, who explained the bill to the house on presenting it for passage, said: "There is absolutely nothing in this bill except the postal convention that could in any way be construed to be a subsidy."

Which is right, the commercial-financial expert or the legislator? If by "subsidy" is meant a direct appropriation of money from the public treasury, then Edmunds, perhaps, is correct.

If, however, "subsidy" includes grants of special advantages, favors, or of money diverted from the public treasury which otherwise would reach there, then the bill unquestionably does grant subsidies.

For instance—Uncle Sam's revenue laws provide that individuals and corporations must pay into the United States treasury a certain percentage of their income and excess profits.

The Merchant Marine act, however, provides that individuals or corporations owning or operating ships under United States registry may deduct the net earnings of any vessels operated in foreign trade from the amount of income or profits subject to federal taxes, provided such earnings are set aside into a building fund or are used in the construction of new vessels in American shipyards.

Further, any person or corporation

owning vessels, who may sell any vessel at a profit within the next ten years, will be relieved of federal taxes on such profits if they are reinvested in new shipping built in American shipyards.

Such money, of course, is removed from the public treasury as actually as though collected and re-appropriated in a direct subsidy.

Another provision which aids shipping at the expense of the general public is Section 25, permitting the making of discriminating railroad rates in favor of shipments on American vessels.

Such differential rates assist the boat lines, at the expense of the American railroads. And reduced income to the railroads means only more and more freight rate advances which the general public must meet.

A construction loan fund, amounting in five years to $125,000,000, is to be established by the shipping board from the proceeds of vessel sales, from which shipping interests may finance new construction in American yards. Loans from this fund are authorized up to two-thirds of the cost of the boats so financed.

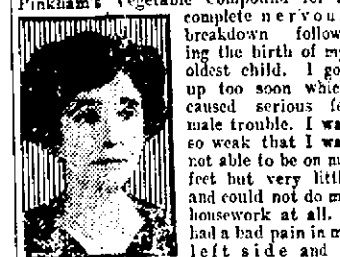

The terms and conditions under which vessels built and owned by the government may be purchased by private interests in themselves may be so advantageous as to amount virtually to a subsidy.

A LETTER FOR WOMEN

From a Woman Whose Serious Illness Was Overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Garnett, Fla.—"I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a complete nervous breakdown following the birth of my oldest child. I got up too soon which caused serious female trouble. I was so weak that I was not able to be on my feet but very little and could not do my housework at all. I had a bad pain in my left side and it would pain terribly if I stepped off a curb-stone. One day one of your booklets was thrown in the yard and I read every word in it. There were so many who had been helped by your medicine that I wanted to try it and my husband went to town and got me a bottle. It seemed as though I felt relief after the second dose, so I kept on until I had taken five bottles and by that time I was as well as I could wish. About a year later I gave birth to a ten-pound boy, and have had two more children since and my trouble of any kind I am going to take your medicine for I give it all the praise for my good health. I always recommend your medicine whenever I can."—Mrs. EVA E. SHAY, Garnett, Kansas.

If England, for instance, gives special protection and advantages to her shipping which would enable it to monopolize the ocean freights of the world, how far is the United States justified in attempting to equalize conditions even at public expense?

Senator Jones of Washington, chairman of the senate commerce committee and chief sponsor for the merchant marine act, has no apologies to make for any of its provisions.

The conditions against which an American merchant marine must compete, he declares, justify every provision in the act.

"It is necessary," he declares, "for the national defense and for the proper growth of our foreign and domestic commerce, that the United States have a merchant marine sufficient to carry the greater portion of its commerce. States to do whatever may be necessary to develop and encourage the maintenance of such a merchant marine."

EVERY FLOWER HAS A STORY ALL ITS OWN

The anemone expresses withered hopes. That meaning is probably derived from the fact that it withers as soon as it is gathered and is so fragile that the wind destroys it.

Fairy-lore tells us that the delicate veins of the anemone are painted by the fairies and that at night the little creatures cuddle down in the flowers and draw the petals over them as shelter.

Dedicated to Venus

The classical legend states that the anemone was dedicated to Venus because of her tears. One day Venus saw Adonis and fell in love with him. Adonis loved to hunt and Venus, fearing that he might be hurt, warned him to be careful. Adonis laughed at her fears, but when out hunting, a wild boar attacked and killed him. Venus saw the body and wept bitterly. "Your blood shall be transformed into a flower," she exclaimed, "as a memorial of my grief." Then she sprinkled nectar over the blood and a delicate crimson-veined flower sprang up. It is the anemone or wind-flower, so called because this transient flower does not bloom until the wind blows.

Origin of Name

Another interpretation of the name wind-flower is found in a Greek legend. Anemone was a beautiful nymph with whom Zephyr was in love. Flora became jealous and exiled her from court. Far from her lover, Anemone pined away and died of a broken heart. Zephyr pleaded with Venus who transformed Anemone's body into the flower and Zephyr fans her with his wings all day long.

DOPE TRAFFIC ON THE INCREASE

N.E.A. Staff Special

NEUVO LAREDO, Mex., July 19.

America is being flooded with "dope." Today the "drug traffic" in Mexico is the nation's most paying business. Opium, cocaine and heroin are being smuggled across the border in greater quantities than ever before.

While thousands of dollars' worth of "dream stuff" is found each day by federal narcotic operatives along the border, other thousands are finding their way across the Rio Grande.

Mexican officials here say the demand from the United States is growing heavier with each month of prohibition, and that great fortunes are being made in the illicit trade by many influential Mexicans and Americans.

GARDEN NEWS BY THE MIDDLE-SEX COUNTY BUREAU OF AGRICULTURE

The backyard home garden is not unlike the farm in that there is always a lot of work to be done on it. If it is not planting, it is weeding, if it is not weeding, it is cultivating or spraying. There is always something that can be done to advantage.

Many home gardeners are training their tomatoes to a stake. All side shoots should be kept cut off. One should go over his vines at least once a week. Not more than two stems should be permitted to live and bear fruit.

Many home gardeners have harvested their first crop of peas. The pea vines should be pulled and placed in a compost pile for rotting or if one is going to spade the land they may be spaded under. Cabbage and cauliflower plants should be placed where a peas were. If one does not care for these crops it is still not too late to plant winter beets and a late variety of string beans or Victoria spinach.

When one picks New Zealand spinach and it is ready for picking in many gardens, the shoots should be nipped off at the end of the stems also all side shoots which have become long enough. Good young shoots develop in the axils of the leaves which may be harvested in a few days. This process will give one a continual supply of greens.

Many vegetables should be thinned which have not yet been thinned. Swiss chard should not be permitted to stand closer than 6 inches between the plants. In harvesting Swiss chard the outer leaves are picked, other shoots grow from the stem of the plant to take the place of those that have been harvested.

Squash vines are commencing to start running. It is well to cover two or three joints of each runner with earth so that they will take root. This is in order to protect the vine in case the squash vine borer gets into the main stem. A root system will develop at each joint and will save the vine and mature the crop after the main stem is cut off.

Governor Cox, in summarizing the results of the conference, said it brought out that he and the president are "agreed as to the meaning and sufficiency of the democratic platform and the duty of the party in the face of threatened bad faith to the world in the name of America."

Franklin D. Roosevelt, the democratic candidate for vice president, who also participated in the conference, which lasted about an hour, said "splendid accord" was shown in the conversations between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Cox.

Party leaders here expressed satisfaction today over the results of the 50-hour visit of Governor Cox in the capital. In addition to the conference with Mr. Wilson, the nominee saw a number of senators and other officials before departing for Columbus.

Principle of Living Wage

wage, and with the further declaration that if there should be any wage increase it would mean an advance in the price of anthracite to the consumer.

"When we sought to demonstrate by an inquiry into the monopolistic domination of the industry and its abnormally large earnings, direct and indirect, that our just wage demands could be met and the increase absorbed by the operators out of their profits without an increase in the price of coal to the consumer, we encountered a technical objection from the operators who raised the question as to the jurisdiction of the commission to go into matters of costs, profits and monopoly.

"We submit that we have established beyond contradiction the following points:

"1.—Anthracite workers are not now receiving a living wage.

"2.—A living wage in this industry

would be largely in excess of the maximum earnings which the operators show in their own table.

"3.—Our demand for a minimum wage of $4 per day, with differentials, is reasonable and conservative.

"Therefore, we contend that we have earned the judgment of this commission for our full wage demands on our submission in this phase of the case."

On the question of union recognition, Mr. Murray said:

"There can be no real industrial peace or accelerated production in the anthracite industry until the United Mine Workers of America are given a full and complete recognition of their union. This is no threat. It is merely the statement of a fact. It cannot have, nor does it claim it can have, the influence of the great body of mine workers which it should have until the operators accord it complete recognition."

LOCAL POLICE ON WATCH-OUT FOR LAWRENCE BIKER AND MOTORCYCLE THIEVES

The Lowell police have been notified by the police of Lawrence to be on the watch for a Harley-Davidson motorcycle valued at $40 and an Evans power bicycle valued at $200, which were stolen Saturday from a shop conducted by David Kimball at 93A Lawrence street, Lawrence. The break was made at 2 o'clock in the morning, by ripping the screening from a rear window and the police of Lawrence believe that the machines were carried away in a truck. The local police are supplied with descriptions of the machines.

shortly after noon the car which was to make the trip came up Merrimack street. It was the same car which had achieved the distinction of reaching the highest point of elevation on Mt. Washington on June 28.

There was little delay in getting the demonstration under way. Up on city hall steps Mayor Perry D. Thompson, Commissioners Donnelly, Murphy, Marchand and Salmon and a large number of other city officials and clerks awaited the coming of the visitor, while down below Officer Dan Lane and Chief Saunders of the fire department cleared an avenue for the climbing machine.

At 12:05 Dix threw in the clutch, up came the machine onto the sidewalk and at a leisurely pace made its way to the bottom of the steps. The driver steered over to one side and took the climb on a slant. It was as easy as going along on perfectly level land. At least, it appeared that way to observers. Dix then presented a box of cigars to the mayor, got his car back into position to make the descent and without the least difficulty or mishap made his way to "terra firma" amid the spontaneous plaudits of the crowd.

POLICE HEAD KILLED

Cork Club—Mail Train is Held Up

BELFAST, July 18.—Commissioner Smyth of the Royal Irish Constabulary was shot dead at the Country club at Cork last night by 14 armed men who forced their way past the doormen.

Smyth was found by the intruders sitting with friends, one of them being Inspector Craig. Several of the men fired point-blank at Commissioner Smyth, who rose, but fell dead while endeavoring to reach the door. Mr. Craig was wounded during the fusillade.

Mr. Smyth was the divisional commissioner for the Munster Royal Irish Constabulary.

Smyth was a captain of the 15th Sikhs during the world war. He lost his left arm during the fighting and returned to England with the rank of colonel. He received his commission a few months ago.

Mr. Smyth's name figured prominently in the house last week in connection with a speech he made to the police at Lismore, County Kerry, June 19, in which it was declared he ordered his men not to be afraid to shoot with effect. He had just returned to Ireland from London where he gave the Irish office an explanation of affairs in Ireland.

No arrests have been made in connection with the killing of Mr. Smyth. People passing the club at the time had no idea that a tragedy was being enacted inside. The shooting was over in a few minutes.

A moving picture show adjacent to the club was closing when the shooting occurred and the murderers easily mingled with the crowd and escaped.

STRENUOUS OPPOSITION TO DANCE HALL

Strong opposition is developing in Pawtucketville against the granting of a license for the opening of a dance hall on the Pawtucket boulevard. An application for such a license has been filed with the license commission and it is understood that a hearing is to be given on the proposition in the near future.

At the morning service of the Pawtucket Congregational church yesterday the subject of a license was under consideration. By a unanimous vote of the congregation it was voted to send the following communication to the license commissioners:

"The Pawtucket Congregational church, assembled on Sunday morning, July 18, 1920, passed a unanimous vote earnestly requesting your honorable board that no license be granted to operate a dance hall on the Pawtucket boulevard.

"Past experience has shown that a dance hall in such a locality with such surroundings has always proved a menace to public morals, and a dance hall operated on the boulevard would surely increase the immorality of this city, as well as have a demoralizing effect upon this section of the city.

"Furthermore, a dance hall on the boulevard would become a public nuisance to this locality by disturbing the peace at late hours of the night, by bringing a crowd here impossible for the police to handle, with all possible corrupting influences.

"Therefore, as a church in this community having the highest interest in the resident people and the citizens of the city, we do hereby unitedly protest against the granting of such a license."

The petition is signed by Rev. A. G. Lyon, pastor; John Bowker, church clerk; and George Vance for the parish committee.

DEAD EULOGIZED

BOSTON, July 19.—"America's hero" died in the world war that we might live, not for ourselves alone, but for the things they died for, building the future for which they made the supreme sacrifice." Rev. Edward T. Sullivan so declared last evening, in a memorial service for the men of the 26th Division in the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, and in commemoration of the second anniversary of the beginning of the decisive battle at Chateau-Thierry.

"In the great war," said the speaker, "youth whom we thought immature blossomed suddenly into maturity, because they saw that what makes life and liberty precious was in peril. They set out as bravely as any heroes of the romantic past, offering their lives that the nation might live."

"Mankind has an overweening regard for mortal as distinguished from immortal life. There are times when it is man's duty to die for right and when it is perdition to be saved. We could not see the arrival of those we commemorate tonight in the other world, but we should regard the spirit of death in their case in terms of entrance to that world, not in terms of their leaving us. We know not what vast issues they may help to determine there."

"One hero of the 26th Division, who entered the battle of Chateau-Thierry at 5 a. m. and was wounded at 5 p. m., declared that the intervening period 'was the most wonderful four hours of his life.' Another, when commemorated on having been wounded, replied simply, 'What do you think I came to France for?'"

COMMITTS SUICIDE

BERLIN, July 19.—(By Associated Press.)—Prince Joachim of Hohenzollern, youngest son of ex-emperor William, committed suicide Saturday in Potsdam.

Joachim is believed to have been in financial straits. He recently was divorced.

Prince Joachim shot himself while in his residence, the villa Leignitz. He was removed to St. Joseph's hospital where he died a few hours later.

Joachim recently had been suffering from great mental depression.

The only member of the former imperial family now in Potsdam is Eitel Frederick, the ex-emperor's second son.

Prince Joachim was born December 17, 1850, in Berlin. He served during the world war on both the western and eastern fronts.

During the first year of the war he was wounded in the fighting in France, and for a long time it was feared that he would not recover. When he did recover, he was transferred to the Russian front, where he had several narrow escapes from capture and afterward suffered a serious illness.

After the defeat of the Germans, there were rumors that Emperor William would abdicate in favor of Joachim.

Joachim was married in 1915 to Princess Marie Augustine of Anhalt, who then was just 17 years old. A dispatch from Paris early this year said Joachim had brought a suit for divorce.

The prince during the war was ranked as a popular hero in Germany. Since the end of the war little has been heard of him. One report was to the effect that he hoped to come to the United States after the peace treaty was signed.

DENY SUICIDE
CAUSED BY SCANDAL

BERLIN, July 19.—(By Associated Press.)—Friends of Prince Joachim of Hohenzollern deny stories current in Berlin that his suicide at Potsdam Sunday was brought about by scandal. They say that, aside from his marital disappointments, the prince, like his brothers, was sadly in need of funds, owing to the limited allowance from the crown funds permitted him by the Prussian government.

Prince Joachim is also reported to have been brooding over the ultimate fate of the former royal house and the criticism to which his father has been subjected in Germany.

Prince Joachim is declared to have been the favorite son of the former German empress and fears are expressed that the news of his suicide may have a fatal effect on her, as she recently suffered an acute recurrence of her heart trouble.

Ex-Emperor Affected

DOORN, Holland, July 19.—(By Associated Press.)—The announcement of Prince Joachim's death came to Doorn Castle like a thunderbolt.

The former German empress, who during the past week has again been seriously troubled by her heart ailment, is believed not to have been informed of the tragedy. The ex-emperor, however, has been told of it and has been greatly affected by the untimely end of his favorite son.

PUBLIC BATH HOUSE

The park department as well as the municipal council is to be congratulated upon the success of the public bath system, opened on the banks of the Merrimack, above Pawtucket falls.

For over a quarter century The Sun has been advocating a system of public baths, and it is now perhaps twenty-five years ago since a little wooden shack was constructed on the bank of the river, near the present bathhouse as a dressing room for those who went in bathing there. Part of it was over the water and our recollection is, that the structure was finally broken up by a flood. Several attempts were made at different times to establish public baths and committees were appointed by the city council for that purpose. These committees contemplated the purchase of expensive property on Middle street or elsewhere to be remodeled after the plan of public baths in other cities. Reports in favor of such schemes were made, but never adopted so that it remained for the city government of last year to decide upon a definite building plan providing for the system now in operation.

The popularity of the public bath house has more than justified the expense. It had long been a reflection on our city that although two great rivers join their waters at the centre of the business district and although we have a great canal system, yet we never before had a real system of public baths.

Our people by thousands went to the beaches and adjacent summer resorts to enjoy bathing, because no local facilities were provided for that purpose. The children, boys and girls—yes and hundreds of adults—took chances in the rivers and canals, however, with the result that every year there were from six to twelve drownings.

An effort was made to compute the actual number of drownings in the local waterways and it was found that over a thousand lives were lost altogether, counting not only those who were drowned while bathing, and they constituted the majority—but those who disappeared through the ice while skating. The average was about one drowning a month, a heavy toll to pay for the lack of public baths and a skating park in winter. This was shown by the actual count of the drownings from 1906 to 1913, both included, the numbers for the years in order being 7, 14, 8, 17, 11, 10, 14, 13, making a total of 94 in eight years.

The opening of Shedd park for skating purposes in the winter was a great help toward preventing drownings in the winter season. The public bath house will save a great many lives that would otherwise be lost and in this respect as well as from a sanitary point of view, it is a wise investment.

So popular has it become in fact, that there is likely to be a demand for additional accommodation for bathing purposes along the boulevard. The bath house is certainly a great success and a great—we may say a life saving benefit to the people of our city.

DRIVE OUT RADICALISM

It can at least be said of both the democratic and republican tickets that they represent true Americanism and that from both parties have been eliminated to a very great extent the genus "nut."

The latter species segregated very wisely in a camp of their own and after a strenuous effort to unite on any policy that could be put before the American public without danger of instant repudiation, they split up into warring factions and separated.

The Farmer-Labor ticket to be put in the field will have but an insignificant following. It does not represent the farmer and if it did it would not represent the laborer. The honest farmer as well as the honest laborer has no sympathy with the aggregation of cranks that assembled under various labels at Chicago. That there could be no unanimity in a body so divided on principle, is not surprising. The fact is, that radicalism, socialism, Bolshevism, anarchy and I. W. W. are all dwindling where formerly they seemed to be thriving. The recent effort to organize any distinctly radical opposition to the government or the constitution has failed utterly. This is a healthy sign and an indication that the governmental and other forces organized to fight radicalism and everything tending to weaken loyalty to our flag, are fast approaching the vanishing point. In our schools and colleges as well as in the pulpits of certain denominations, there is a decided stand against the teaching or preaching of radicalism and socialism. The eyes of loyal Americans have been opened to the danger arising from allowing teachers or college professors to sow the seeds of disloyalty under the plea of exercising the "right of academic freedom."

There is no such right. The teacher of an elementary school has no right to justify into the minds of the children, the dangerous doctrines of socialism or any other brand of Bolshevism. Neither has the college professor the right either in the class room or on the public platform to advocate radicalism in any form. Every college hereafter must keep its professors under control or be responsible for their conduct and their utterances.

It is not creditable to any institution of learning to have one of its professors go out to carry the Red flag at the head of a procession of anarchists or to be connected with them in any way whatsoever. No such man should be allowed inside of an institution of learning except as a student. There have been some preachers who have prided themselves upon being Christians and socialists at the same time—something which is utterly paradoxical. Real Christianity has nothing in common with the doctrines and ultimate aims of socialism, and it has been demonstrated again and again, that socialism applied as in Russia would abolish and completely overthrow Christianity.

It is the duty of parents to see that their children are not misled into socialism or any form of disloyalty through the influence of teachers or others. Radicalism is under the ban; it is fast disappearing and it is the duty of every true American to help in driving it from these shores.

ENFORCING A MANDATE

It is announced that French troops have started a war upon Syria to enforce the French mandate under the authority of the League of Nations. Part of the conditions of this mandate, so far as announced, indicates that the Syrian people must accept the rule of France, must adopt the French language and currency instead of the language and the form of circulating medium now in use.

We had supposed that the mandate under the League of Nations was intended to protect the weak nations rather than to force upon them a system of tyranny. It must be utterly repugnant to any ancient people such as the Syrians to be obliged to abandon their own language and adopt that of another people wholly foreign to them and apparently unnatural. We do not think the order is just and if it is a sample of what is meant by the mandates to be exercised under the authority of the League of Nations then the mandates are likely to be met with vigorous resistance as being utterly opposed to the principle of self-determination.

The upholders of the Irish republic are apparently squaring things up with the British government. The Britons seized a man named Barry who carried some messages to republican officials and a few days after, the republicans raided the Dublin postoffice and carried away all the letters addressed to Dublin castle. Thus by force the new government counters the old.

The republicans, having extracted a "bloody shirt" issue out of one war, are not likely to succeed in their attempt to create another out of the world conflict by denouncing Governor Cox because he did not go about beating tom-toms and shouting anathemas against Germany at a time when the nation and most of its people were neutral and hoped that it would be possible to continue so.

Senator Harding resents the "persistent misrepresentation" of the republican party's attitude toward woman suffrage. But, what about the attitude of those staunch and true republicans, Governors Clement and Helecomb, either of whom could bring about the ratification of the 19th amendment within a few days

by attaching his signature to a call for a legislative session?

With Formosa and Java sending 100,000 tons of sugar to the United States, perhaps the time may come again when it will be possible to enjoy a second cup of coffee with even a second spoonful of sugar in it without irritating too much the sensitiveness of the nerve that leads to the pocketbook.

An effort is being made by certain labor elements to secure the release of Larkin, the Irish socialist disturber now serving a sentence in the federal penitentiary here. He made trouble in Ireland and is not wanted by any element in that country except perhaps a few brother socialists.

Now it is the Boston Herald that has made its advent into the ranks of newspaper grammar critics by finding fault with a New York Sun headline, "May the Best Boat Win." Unfortunately the standard of grammatical accuracy established in The Sun by Charles A. Dana has long since departed.

Something "with boiling oil or melted lead" in it, would almost seem to be required as fit punishment for the culprits if it be found that coal operators have been camouflaging exports of fuel by shipping them by way of Montreal.

Seems as though the state commission on the necessities of life, in investigating the closing of the woolen mills, was trespassing on the ground covered by a federal court decision that cloth is not clothing and, therefore, not in the class with necessities.

If Boston does nothing more to celebrate its 109th birthday, two years hence, than to separate the meat shop and public forum that now exist in its historic old "Cradle of Liberty," it will have done one thing worth while.

One man has been locked up in the Suffolk county jail for nearly three years waiting for the courts to pass finally upon his case. This isn't exactly the "justice without delay" that the Massachusetts bill of rights provides for.

There is one bright star of hope shining in the murky of high prices, and that is that even if there is another boost in water rates there will probably be no increase in charges to those who patronize the street drinking fountains.

Some of the contributors to the fund for the perpetual care of cemetery lots seem to be so unreasonable as to think that juggling with money left in trust for a specific purpose isn't exactly the kind of business that the city should engage in.

With Postmaster Meehan back on the job, after his vacation in sight of the Golden Gate, we may hope to hear before long of "something doing" in connection with the new postoffice in the centre of the city.

The Pawtucket Congregational church hits the nail squarely on the head when it says, in a set of resolutions to be presented to the license commission: "A dance hall operated on the boulevard would surely increase the immorality of the city."

The Sun extends its felicitations to the 25 young women who have successfully passed their examinations and had their names added to the list of Lowell's school teachers. They are starting upon careers of great usefulness.

With a long string of ships carrying America's coal across the ocean while New England industries are facing a shut-down for want of fuel, is it possible to imagine a greater farce or tragedy?

Are we to be compelled after all to write "Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these, it might have been," as the epitaph of that proposed new postoffice in Lowell's business centre?

The various committees are going ahead with the business of preparing to notify the presidential candidates of their nomination as seriously as though the nominees hadn't seen the newspapers lately.

A new bug, the satin moth, has begun to prey on the trees around Boston. Hasn't somebody made a mistake—shouldn't it be "satin" instead of "satin"?

Sir Thomas showed that he has the right kind of sporting blood when he said, "I would rather not accept a race won on a fluke."

"Fuel Administrator May be Needed," says a headline. In the name of all the empty coal bins, why "may be" instead of "is"?

Some Home, We'll Say

"Horses!" said the American. "Guess you can't talk to me about horses. I had an old mare, Malzypop, who once licked our best express by a couple of miles on a thirty-mile run."

"That's nothing," said the Canadian. "I was out on my farm one day, about 50 miles from the house, when a frightful storm came up. I turned the pony's head for home, and, do you know, he raced the storm so close for the last 10 miles that I didn't feel a drop, while my old dog, only ten yards behind, had to swim the whole distance."

Velocity of Light

Physicians never tire of efforts to increase the accuracy of their knowledge of the fundamental facts of science. A re-determination of the velocity of light by the Fizeau toothed wheel method was made at Nice. These experiments were remarkable on account of the great distance over which the beam of light employed was transmitted. Previously such a beam had been caused to travel about 15 miles, but on this occasion the reflecting mirror was so placed that the total distance traversed by the beam, going and returning, was 57 miles. The mean of 1109 observations gave for the velocity of light 186,223½ miles a second.

The Auctioneer

For three strenuous hours the auctioneer had tried to work his listeners up to the proper pitch of enthusiasm. But either the weather or their lunch had disagreed with them, and they simply wouldn't be aroused. The sale was one of horses, and lot after lot went for very poor prices. At last a sad and sorry animal was led into the ring.

"Now, gentlemen," shouted the auctioneer, "what offers for this lot? Will somebody start the bidding?"

There was a pause. Then a voice came slowly from somewhere in the middle of the crowd.

"Two dollars!" it said.

"Gentlemen, gentlemen!" protested the auctioneer tearfully. "The horse is alive!"

Tell me why
Must beauty die,
Be it star or be it flower?
Be it maiden standing by
With that love-light of the eye,
Born to live its little hour?

Can you bid
Can you bid one heart-beat stay?
Can you stop the petal's fall,
Or prolong the wild bird's call
At the dying of the day?

Can you hold Winter's cold,
Summer's shine, or ocean's mood?
Is not every moment strange,
And the constancy of change
Mankind's only certitude?

TO STAGE CONCERT AT LAKEVIEW THEATRE

The minstrel troupe of the Mathew Temperance Institute will stage a concert at the Lakeview theatre on Aug. 22. It was decided at a meeting of the Lakeview Chapel Fund association held yesterday at Lakeview. The association is composed of summer residents of Lakeview and neighboring resorts and has been formed for the purpose of raising funds to erect a chapel at Lakeview.

The troupe will hold a rehearsal next Friday evening at the Mathews' rooms at 5 o'clock under the direction of Francis A. Clarke and inasmuch as the time between now and the date of the concert is brief, it is hoped that every member of the troupe will be present Friday.

The members of the Mathews who will have charge of the concert are the following: Joseph Finnegan, chairman; James McGovern, secretary; Matthew Ryan, Harold McKee, William Ryan, Francis Clarke, Bernard H. Rourke, Thomas J. Tighe, George W. Bowers, Thomas J. Durkin and Arthur M. Flaherty. A committee of five from the Chapel Fund association has been appointed to co-operate with the Mathews, as follows: John Golden, chairman; Elizabeth Sheehy, John Keefe, John McQuade and Stephen Hession.

SERIOUS CONGESTION ON PEKING RAILWAY

TIENTSIN, July 18.—Railway service with Peking has again been interrupted by a collision near Yangtsun. As a result, there is much congestion of troop trains from Mukden. A repair train replaced the derailed engine, but was unable to proceed further because of congestion due to the arrival of Anfuite reinforcements.

The Peking-Tientsin line is single tracked. Haphazard running of trains by inexperienced soldiers is also adding in the almost hopeless confusion.

Nine trains are stalled in one section alone near Yangtsun. The gates to the city of Peking were closed Sunday, to keep out refugees and defeated Anfuites. One division of Anfu forces has already arrived here from Mukden, another is on its way, and a third is ready to start when trains are available.

Fighting has begun on the Chihli-Shantung border. Tientsin is quiet.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

"Appropos of the yacht races," said a Sun man in the course of a discussion having to do with the present race between the Resolute and Shamrock. "I happened to be on a liner coming from Liverpool when an incident occurred in the saloon that will forever bloom fresh and green in my garden of memories when yacht races are mentioned. We were enjoying, what is quite common on the big liners, an impromptu entertainment and it was real good, too. An Englishman, Sir Somebody, was master of ceremonies and he had as pronounced a cockney accent as one would wish to hear. After calling on several for addresses, recitations, songs, etc., and meeting with ready response on each occasion, the master of ceremonies adding vigor to tone and gesture, announced that it was his happy privilege to introduce Mr. William H. Crane of America, and said:

"I hope the great American actor (with emphasis on the or) will favor the assemblage." It was a David Harum grin that William H. better known to us as Billy—turned on the toastmaster upon acknowledging the introduction. Billy got up and when he screwed his face and squinted in his inimitable fashion, it appeared to the Americans that David Harum was speaking again, and in mid-ocean. "Ladies and gentlemen," said Billy, assuming his most ludicrous pose, "I think if I can entertain you at all, it will be by relating some of my experiences in London. I had always heard that the English were very slow to arrive at the point of an American joke, and at the end of my first visit to London I came away feeling that perhaps there was considerable foundation in fact for the belief. My first experience came while being entertained at a club, and I was being treated right royally, too. It happened to be the year after, too, one of England's unsuccessful attempts to win the American cup, and my friends, members of the club, were discussing the failure of the English sportsmen to defeat the Americans. They could not quite understand why the Americans succeeded in winning on each and every occasion and one asked me if there was any cause I could assign. He called attention to the fact that boats were built in England, tried out in English waters, tryouts and all else were supervised by men familiar with American craft, but yet, with all their good efforts, they were defeated at every turn despite the fact that they go over the measured course there at a rate of speed faster than any boat in previous races covered the same distance in American waters. I said there was no great mystery and that in fact it was perfectly simple. I told him that the water off the Jersey coast was a great deal thicker than the water around the British Isles. That, I said, was the whole story. You may believe me when I tell you that the members of the club seemed dumbfounded. They looked at me in astonishment.

"Mr. Crane," queried one of them, "are you quite sure about that?"

"This," said the Sun man, "produced a flood-tide of laughter that rocked the boat and his next almost flooded the saloon with mirthful tears.

"After answering the question that solved the problem as to America's holding fast to the cup, Mr. Crane continued, another one of the London club party asked me what I saw in London that pleased me most. 'The thing that pleased me most,' I answered, 'I saw in the steamship office on the Strand. It was a ticket to New York.'

"I can't see," said one of my auditors, "what there can possibly be about an ordinary ticket to please one so. I looked at me amazedly and said: 'Do you really mean it?'

"And while all the passengers in the saloon," continued the Sun man, "were splitting their sides with laughter, the master of ceremonies looked about him with an inquisitive air as much as to say, 'What in the world are you laughing at?' This increased the laughter to such an extent that the boat actually lurched."

I have watched these past few weeks a most industrious neighbor tending as fine a garden of potatoes as any local embryo farmer can boast. I have felt a compelling personal interest in his little farm because I have observed that early and late, before going to his daily work and just after his evening meal, he is there smoking his pipe, spraying the budding potato plants with bug-killer and then with water, until today the garden shows up splendidly. Passersby have stopped to look at the wonderful array of plants, and those of us who know the personal effort and attention our gardener neighbor has put in are ready to admit that it will be a crying shame if his labors did not yield a harvest commensurate with the time, energy and money he has expended.

WOMAN ANNOUNCES HER CANDIDACY

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 18.—Mrs. Althea Wheeler of Grand Rapids, a linotype operator, employed in the government printing office at Washington, D. C., today announced her candidacy for the republican congressional nomination in the Fifth Michigan district. Mrs. Wheeler said:

"I am a laboring woman. I think laboring women should have representation in the halls of congress. Through my work in Washington, I am more or less familiar with the workings of congressional politics and I believe I could fill the bill if chosen."

POLES IN RETREAT SOUTH OF VILNA

LONDON, July 19.—The Bolsheviks, according to a communique issued at Moscow Sunday, are energetically pursuing the Poles southwest of Vilna. In the direction of Lida and Baranovitch, they say they have reached important points to the eastward of Baranovitch.

"We occupied the line of the river Lan, west of Slutsk," adds the communique. "An enemy attack on Lubin was repulsed with severe losses."

On the Crimean front, fierce fighting is reported in the south of Orsk.

News of the Churches

The usual summer schedule of services was carried out in all the Catholic churches yesterday with large congregations in attendance.

St. Patrick's
Large numbers of the faithful received communion at the 7 o'clock and other early masses at St. Patrick's church yesterday. The late mass was a low mass, in accordance with the summer schedule and the vesper services were largely attended.

Immaculate Conception
Rev. Albert McDermott, O.M.I., of Buffalo, N. Y., celebrated the late mass at the Immaculate Conception church yesterday, and the pastor, Rev. Lawrence P. Tighe, O.M.I., read the announcements.

The O.M.I. Cadets will meet tomorrow evening at 7.30, and inasmuch as this will be the last meeting before the members leave for their summer encampment, a large attendance is expected.

St. Peter's
Rev. Francis J. Shea celebrated the 11 o'clock mass at St. Peter's church yesterday and also read the announcements. The girls of the parish will receive communion at the 8.30 o'clock mass next Sunday.

St. Michael's
Large numbers of the faithful received communion at the early masses at St. Michael's church yesterday. The other services were also largely attended.

The usual schedule of services was carried out at St. Margaret's and St. Columba's churches yesterday.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

"My! My!" exclaimed Tingaling, the fairymen landlord of the Land-of-Deer-Knows-Where. "I plum forgot all about Oliver Oriole's rent. Come on, twins, bring the pocket-book and the lead-pencil and we'll go get it right away. The tailoring business must be good this year, so no doubt Oliver has barrels of money. He's a very popular tailor, you know."

Now Oliver's apartment was a little bit hard to reach, being the most exclusive one in the Maple-Tree Flats, and, if it hadn't been for the Magical Green Shoes the twins wore, and Tingaling being a fairy, they never could have got there at all.

Even Scramble Squirrel couldn't go calling, nor Chick Chickaree, and certainly Oscar Owl, and Corny Coon couldn't find their way at night to Oliver's front door, for what do you suppose? His rat was out at the tippest end of a tiny branch that was not thicker than the knitting needle your mother (or maybe your grandma) knits your mittens with. And every

Washing Machine Makers
 Ends, Saturday

Coming from behind in vigorous fashion and wiping out an early lead that augured success for their opponents, Pitts' South Ends defeated a team representing the Gillespie Manufacturing Co. in the South common Saturday afternoon, 5 to 2.

The washing machine men trotted out one Smith of Ashbury as their representative in the box and for five innings the up-state twirler had things to his liking, but in the sixth, Andy Lyons began hollering a little louder than usual for signs of life and his entreaties responded with three runs giving the South Ends the lead of a 3-2 score. Another in the seventh made it 5-2 and after the bats were down when the game ended.

Johnny Devlin, who was named for the South ends Friday night to report Saturday but the team was too tired to travel to take his place. He made good in emergency, however, of course, in the eighth inning, when he pitched out a double play, which was the last out of the game.

RAY AND VARDON GET GOOD START

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., July 18.—Harry Vardon, six times golf champion of Great Britain, and Neil Ray, noted British professional, began their tour of the links of the United States here yesterday by defeating two of America's leading amateurs, Ned Sawyer and John G. Anderson. The visitors took an 18-hole match on the links of the Shawano Country club in the morning by a 3 and 1.

In the afternoon Vardon and Ray defeated Tom Kerrigan and Tom McNamara in their first match against American professionals by 2 and 1.

Designer Nicholson May Replace Capt. Burton at Shamrock's Wheel

SANDY HOOK, N. J., July 18.—Speculation above and below decks of the America's racing fleet at anchor today in the horseshoe centered upon the successor to Captain William F. Burton, whom Sir Thomas Lipton plans to remove as skipper of the cup challenger.

Captain Albert W. Turner, sailing master of the Lipton sloop, who had the wheel of the Shamrock when she made some of her gains in Saturday's race, was being talked of as Shamrock's new skipper. It was said that Captain Turner would be given the wheel tomorrow and that Captain Burton would sail on the challenger, though he would not handle the tiller, but this was not confirmed.

Sir Thomas has not said who would succeed Captain Burton, but has told his friends that he likes Designer Nicholson, Colonel Duncan F. Neil, Sir Thomas' representative on the Shamrock, and Captain Alfred Dwyer, of the 25-metre Shamrock, are also under consideration. It is understood, for the Shamrock's wheel. No information could be obtained as to whether Sir Burton would continue as timekeeper of the Shamrock. Crew members with superstitious tendencies believe a woman should not sail on a cup racing yacht.

The refusal of the Resolute has been recent at City Island and will be kept on this afternoon. It was a new sail and showed signs of stretching after the wetting in last Thursday's rain squall. The stay of Shamrock has also been recent.

The race tomorrow will be over a 30-mile triangular course, 10 miles to a lee. Saturday's triangular contest having been called off because the sloop could not finish, the rules provide that the race should be resailed on the next succeeding race day.

WILL WEAR AMERICAN SHIELD AT ANTWERP

BOSTON, July 18.—More than 100 of the leading athletes of the country were selected to represent the United States in the Olympic games to be held at Antwerp, Belgium, next month, at an all-night session of the American Olympic committee, which ended yesterday. The selections were based almost entirely upon the showing made in the final trials at the Harvard university stadium Saturday when more than 20,000 spectators saw America's best track and field stars competing for the privilege of wearing the red, white and blue shield in the seventh Olympic year.

The distribution of team place honors covers the entire country in addition to the selection of several athletes from the army and navy. Although a majority of the men named for the trip to Belgium have athletic club affiliations, most of them are famous college stars.

Members of the Olympic committee and the board of coaches expressed the opinion that the 1920 team is the best balanced and the strongest combination ever named to represent the United States in international athletic competition. Four world's record holders appear on the list—J. E. "Red" Meredith, D. F. Ahearn, F. K. Foss and Pat Ryan. Two winners of first places at the Stockholm Olympiad of 1912 also are members of the team in Meredith and Pat McDonald, the welchman.

The east leads in places won with 67 names, divided as follows: New York A.C., 23; Boston A.A., 19; Meadowbrook club, Philadelphia, 6; colleges, 5; Millrose A.C., New York, 4; smaller clubs, 15; unattached, 4. The middle west secured 43 places with the Chicago A.A. leading with 21; Illinois A.C., having seven, and scattered colleges, 15. The far west and Pacific coast placed 32; the Olympic club of San Francisco having 15; Los Angeles A.C., 11; colleges, 5 and Multnomah A.C., Portland, Ore., 1. Southern collegians won three places for their section. The navy gained six places and the army three.

BILLERICA CAMPERS IN AUTO SMASH

WOBURN, July 18.—Russell Mahler of Tibbitt's Town Way, Charlestown, chauffeur for Sidney Stevens of Mason street, Brookline, is locked up at the police station here, charged with drunkenness and with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Five of his friends are at the Cline Memorial hospital as a result of injuries sustained when the limousine in which they were riding, which Mahler was operating, ran into the brick building of the Woburn Machine company at 5 o'clock yesterday morning.

Mahler, who drove the car, had, it was said here, borrowed the limousine without asking the consent of his employer. The party had been at Pinhurst in Billerica, had made a bumpy night trip to Boston and was on the way back to the camp at Pinhurst.

Policemen in Melford and in Winchester had made ineffectual efforts to stop the car as it sped through those town municipalities. The machine was endeavoring to negotiate the turn on Main street near Fowle street here, when it side-swiped an electric light pole, crossed the sidewalk and crashed into the brick wall of the Woburn Machine company building.

CORK QUIET AFTER STREET FIGHTING

CORK, July 18.—Most of the casualties in last night's street fighting, which was occasioned by excitement over the killing of John Burke at Belfast, occurred in the northern part of the city. After midnight the streets were comparatively quiet with the military patrolling them. There was an occasional volley of shots, however, up to two o'clock.

GRANTVILLE VS. WAKEFIELD

With one of the largest crowds of the season on hand to witness the football game between the Albion Works Co. of Grantville, who played a strong team representing Wakefield at Grantville Saturday afternoon, 11 to 2. Despite its one-sidedness, the game was marked by a series of brilliant plays. Eddie Cawley and "Bing" Falls featuring for the winners and Young for Wakefield. Next Saturday the Albion Works Co. will meet a team representing H. P. Head & Sons of Boston at Grantville.

RECEPTION TO SULLIVAN

At a special meeting of the C.Y.M.L. yesterday morning at the organization's rooms in Suffolk street arrangements were discussed for a reception to John H. Sullivan upon his return from England where he is now preparing to swim the English channel. President Martin H. Quinn presided and a subcommittee was appointed to co-operate with the officers in bringing delegates to a later meeting.

APPOINTED POSTMASTER

John H. Valentine, a well known business man of North Chelmsford, where with his sister he conducts a grocery store and who headed the list in the recent civil service examinations for postmaster of North Chelmsford, has been officially notified of his appointment to the position, the appointment being subject to confirmation by the senate when it reconvenes. Mr. Valentine will take up his new duties shortly after the receipt of his commission and as soon as convenient he will remove the postoffice to his grocery store. The young man is but 23 years of age and at present is following a course of law at Boston university.

DAIRY HAND HEIR TO WILL MAKE MILWAUKEE FATHER'S FORTUNE AN OCEAN PORT

ROCHESTER, July 19.—Although he is heir to one-sixth of the $1,000,000 estate of his father, who died seven years ago in Dundee, Scot., David Nicol Cant, a farmhand for the past five years at Fred C. Stark's dairy farm in Boylston, much preferred to discuss football and cattle to his sudden wealth yesterday.

Dressed in overalls and engaged in taking care of the cows who were being brought in for their evening milking, Cant was reticent about his inheritance. He said that when he gets his money, he is going to buy a farm in America.

He has proved his identity as the son of James Scott Cant of Dundee, who is said to have divided his wealth by will among his six children, David, William, James, Margaret, Isabella, and Johnnie. The Boston attorneys, Choate, Hall & Stewart, were asked to find Cant by a firm of Dundee lawyers. This was done through the efforts of a sister about the time the Scottish courts were preparing to declare David legally dead. An advertisement placed in a Worcester paper was seen by Mrs. Herbert A. Brigham, a neighbor of the Sparks, who made haste to notify Cant.

Cant is about 47 years old and came to this country when he was 27 on the advice of a childhood friend who wrote him enthusiastic letters about life in America. At first Cant was employed at the Willard Morse farm in Southbridge. Nine years afterward he left this farm and was employed at various farms and dairies for about two years. Nine years ago he entered the employ of Mr. Stark, who owns one of the prize dairies in the state.

Up to 13 years ago Cant kept up a correspondence with his family, but since then his people have not known his whereabouts.

Cant said he would probably return to Scotland to see his brothers and sisters, whom he believes are all alive, and to settle up legal matters. He plans to return to America, however, which he considers to be his country and where he will settle permanently.

HOLDING EDWARDS FOR SAFE-KEEPING

Clarence Edwards of Kingston, R. I., is at the local police station for safe-keeping. He was taken in yesterday afternoon by Officers Cawley and McCann from the Cecil hotel on Middlesex street. Edwards is about 25 years old. Following up the young man's story that his father was taking him home from some hospital in Providence, R. I., and that he escaped from him the local police have found him to be a son of Howard Edwards, president of the Rhode Island state college. His relatives have been notified of his detention here.

Edwards visited St. Patrick's church yesterday and told that he had not slept for two days. The church authorities directed him to the Richardson hotel and then notified Judge Enright of the man's strange actions. The above named officers then proceeded immediately to the hotel. He had been refused lodging there and so Edwards was traced to the Cecil.

He says that he served in the army during the war, that he was a reporter on a Springfield paper at one time, that he attended a state college and that he was in an institution at Washington. When taken in by the officers Edwards had a room check and key for the Boston Y.M.C.A. where it is thought he had stayed some time recently.

SALEM NEWS PUBLISHER DEAD

SALEM, July 19.—Robin Damon, treasurer and president of the Salem News Publishing company, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident on Main street, Rowley, on July 3, died yesterday morning in the Cable Memorial hospital in Ipswich. Mr. Damon's injuries included three fractures of the skull, yet the surgeons hoped, up to last night, that he might recover. During last night, however, a radical change for the worse was noted, from which he did not rally.

Robin Damon was born in North Reading September 13, 1862, and removed with his parents to Middleton in 1872. When 12 years old, he established a job printing plant there, and when 14 conducted for 10 months a small monthly, known as the Middleton Times.

In 1877, he established a job printing office in Salem, and three years later founded the Salem Evening News, which was successful from the outset.

He was a trustee of the Plummer Farm Reform School for boys, a director of the New England Newspaper Alliance and of the Salem Co-operative bank, and a member of the Newspaper Publishers' association, Christian Yacht club, Salem club, Colonial club and John Endicott lodge, A.O.C.W.

URGES REBELLION AGAINST ALLIES

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 19 (By the Associated Press).—A circular has been posted on the dead walls of Stambul urging a boycott against the powers enforcing the treaty upon Turkey. It exhorts all Muslims to arm themselves with pistols, clubs and hatchets and drive out "the weak leaders who yield to the demands of foreigners who are seeking to ruin Muslim power."

TONY SILVER ASSAULTED
No arrests have yet been made in the case of Tony Silver who was assaulted in Suffolk street near Liberty square Saturday evening. In a quarrel with another man over some money Silver received a laceration of the scalp and is now confined to the Lowell Corporation hospital. Several stitches had to be taken in the wound to close it. It is reported that the assailant was a stranger to Silver and thus no complaint has been entered as yet.

ONE-MAN CAR AND FORD IN COLLISION

As a result of a collision with a one-man car on Mammoth road this morning, a Ford touring car was badly damaged and the owner, Mrs. Brissette, one of the campers at Mountain Rock during the summer, was badly shaken up and another occupant, Chief Joseph Crepeau of the local navy recruiting station, was cut slightly on the forehead.

Chief Crepeau, whose home is at Lakeview, was waiting for the car this morning on his way to work when the Brissette machine picked him up and proceeded cityward by way of Mammoth road. On reaching the vicinity of Eighth avenue, the Ford attempted to pass a wood team and in doing so collided with the electric car. The motorist and the auto driver applied brakes immediately, but not soon enough to avoid the impact. One of the auto axles was broken, the mud guards were damaged and the windshield broken. Chief Crepeau was cut by the windshield glass. The one-man car was not damaged. The disabled machine was towed to Pitts' garage.

ator Harding had conjectured this significance and outcome and had taken the aggressive in a public statement demanding that the "mysterious foreign commitments" be outlined in the president's program be outlined in detail so that the American people might know what they were asked to support. At the same time, he gave assurances that a republican party never would accept that program.

The senator's statement called directly on Governor Cox to put himself on record in regard to article X, the Armenian mandate and other subjects on which Mr. Wilson has found himself in conflict with the republican senate and with some influential democrats. The feeling in the Harding camp today was that the next move was up to the democratic nominee.

The alacrity with which the league issue has come to the fore, has caused manifest surprise at Harding's headquarters. So far, however, the other ordinary important issues have failed to supply a paramount point of conflict and that circumstance is expected to help keep the league controversy in the spotlight. The Harding managers are not unmindful that within their own party, there is some division of opinion regarding the league, but they believe that on a direct issue of acceptance of the Wilson policy without the dotting of an "i" or the crossing of a "t" of a "u" they can count on a united republican front.

They also are confident that such an issue will drive a wedge through democratic solidarity and they do not intend to overlook any opportunity thus to carry the fight into the enemy's territory.

Freight Car Shortage

Continued.

Interstate commerce commission has said must be furnished each week from the eastern territory to be sent west for the movement of grain.

It is the continual drain of 25 cars a day from the number being received in Lowell that is troubling local shippers most and some of them are wondering how long it can be continued without materially cutting into the facilities for getting their products to customers. It is true, of course, that much of the contents of the cars coming into the city is raw material and that this is more bulky and occupies more space than the manufactured products that are being shipped out. Manufacturers express doubt as to whether the difference in bulk between raw material and finished products is equal to the capacity of 25 cars a day, and some of them are wondering how long shipments can be kept up with less and less empty car space available every day.

Opening of the Playgrounds

President W. N. Goodell and Mrs. George Heath, chairman of the park, playgrounds and recreation committee of the chamber of commerce, with other members of the chamber, will be present tonight at the opening of the street playgrounds in Charles and Howard streets. The proposal to rope off the streets originated with the chamber, and has been widely referred to throughout the country as the "Lowell plan" for providing facilities for play for the children.

Pettibone Trial On

the unusual story of the infatuation of Pettibone, an undertaker's assistant, for a young woman nurse, whom he first met at homes which he visited in the course of his work. Their frequent companionship included rides by the young woman on the front seat of Pettibone's hearse on trips to hospitals, homes or to the cemetery. State witnesses will testify according to Attorney Graves.

The state contends that this infatuation of Pettibone was the motive for his act, although an alleged confession subsequently repudiated by him gave financial worry as the cause.

In the statement attributed to the defendant, it was stated that he gave his wife, who was the widow of a former employer, poison in a dose of salts.

Miss Helen I. Gullow, the nurse of whom Pettibone was said to be enamored, has been held in $1000 bonds as a material witness, but the state's attorney announced that there was no implication that she had any prior knowledge of Mrs. Pettibone's death.

STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

Elizabeth Robins, aged 6 years and residing at 718 East Merrimack street received minor injuries late yesterday afternoon when she was struck by the mudguard of an automobile in East Merrimack street. The machine was being operated by Oscar W. Fossberg of 66 Arlington street, Fitchburg.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Thomas F. Kenney, son of Mrs. Mary A. Kenney of South street, was married to Miss Lillian Smith, daughter of Mr. Henry Smith of Varnum street at a nuptial mass celebrated by Rev. Fr. Mullin at St. Michael's church, July 16 at 8 o'clock. Mr. Henry Smith, brother of the bride, was best man, and Miss Elizabeth H. Kenney, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. The bride was attired in white organdie with hat to match and carried a bridal bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid was attired in pink crepe de chine, trimmed with ostrich with hat to match and carried pink. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a diamond ring, and the groom's gift to the best man was a pair of gold cuff links. After a honeymoon spent at northern New York, the couple will be at home to their friends at 266 South street.

Chapman-Merriman

Mr. Joshua M. Chapman and Miss Edith May Merriman were married July 15 at the parsonage of St. Paul's M.E. church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. L. Cairns. The bride wore white georgette crepe with lace train and carried a bouquet of lilies. The best man was Mr. John O'Leary of Roxbury. After an extended wedding trip the couple will make their home at 213 East Merrimack street.

Richardson-Ward

Mr. Earl R. Richardson of this city and Miss Elizabeth L. Ward were married July 16 at the Chelmsford Centre Baptist parsonage, the ceremony being performed by Rev. C. H. Ellis. The couple were unattended.

Hellerose-Belanger

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon Mr. Alfred Hellerose and Miss Maria Jeanne Belanger were married at St. Joseph's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Athanasius Marlon, O.M.I. The witnesses were Messrs. Norbert Blanchette and Joseph Hellerose.

Plante-Daigle

Mr. Rosario Plante and Miss Blanche Daigle were married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at St. Joseph's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Athanasius Marlon, O.M.I. The bride wore georgette crepe with lace trimmings and veil and carried a bouquet of lilies. The groom wore a tuxedo and carried a sword. The witnesses were Messrs. Alfred Hellerose and Joseph Hellerose.

Desrosiers-Harrison

Mr. Honoré Desrosiers and Miss Rose A. Harrison were married this morning at a nuptial mass celebrated in the private chapel of St. Joseph's rectory at 7 o'clock, by Rev. Armand Baron, O.M.I. The bride wore white georgette crepe trimmed with pearls, and veil caught up with sweet peas, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and sweet peas. The witnesses were Messrs. Frederick and Euphrosine Desrosiers, brothers of the groom. At the close of the mass, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Joseph Desrosiers, 625 Moody street, and later the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to Bethlehem, N. H., and upon their return in a couple of weeks, they will make their home at 123 Riverside street.

Silva-Picanceo

The marriage of Mr. John C. Silva and Miss Maria C. Picanceo took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at St. Anthony's church, the ceremony being performed by Rt. Rev. Bishop da Silva. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Manuel C. Picanceo, while the maid of honor was Miss Edith C. Picanceo, her sister. The bride wore white georgette crepe trimmed with satin, with veil of net caught up with orange blossoms. The maid of honor was attired in pink georgette with pelerine hat to match. The flower girls were little Misses Marguerite Dias and Louise C. Picanceo, who wore white georgette over net, and white milan hats. At the close of the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride, which was prettily decorated with the national colors. After an extended honeymoon trip to the Bermuda Islands, the couple will make their home in this city.

APPALACHIANS END HIKE

Lowell Woman One of Party to Cover 106 Miles of Trail

RUTLAND, Vt., July 19.—Sixteen members of the Appalachian Mountain club, headed by Theodora S. Conant of Boston, left this city for Boston by train yesterday afternoon after having covered 106 miles of mountain trail in nine days. The party left Boston by train July 10 and began the hike at Warner, N. H., ending the trip at Rutland.

Five high mountains were scaled—three in Vermont, Ascuncy, Pico and Killington; two in New Hampshire, Kearsarge and Sunapee. The party traveled light, the men in olive drab breeches and the women, of whom there were nine, wearing bloomers. The baggage was shipped from point to point.

In speaking of the trip yesterday Mr. Conant said: "We found several farm-houses, where the owners readily permitted us to eat our lunch on their porches and furnished us with drinking water. In only two cases did I have to order us of their premises."

"I don't blame them much, for we certainly looked like a band of gypsies more than anything else. We like the Green mountains better than the White mountains for our purpose. They are not so high, but are better suited for hiking."

Members of the club who visited this city were Mr. Conant, Mr. Turner and Thomas W. Bradshaw of Allston, Mass.; Frank H. Barbour, Auburndale, Mass.; James H. Burdett, Boston; Charles H. Harwick, Quincy; Samuel P. Hunt, Groton, Conn.; Anna F. Niemann, West Newton, Mass.; Henrietta A. Niemann, Auburndale, Mass.; Helen F. Hill, Lowell; Margaret W. Thacher, Roxbury, Mass.; Agnes G. Gody, Cambridge, Mass.; Edith M. Estabrook, Boston; Anna F. Elliott, Boston; Emma M. Underhill of Ossining, N. Y.

POLICE PRESENT PRIORITY PLAN

A delegation from the local police department visited Mayor Perry D. Thompson early this afternoon to present a plan whereby the older members of the department would receive priority in the matter of routes, vacations, etc. In much the same manner as do employees of the street railway company at the present time.

The mayor had spoken of the matter earlier in the year, but since then it has remained dormant until a few days ago when the police asked if he intended to do anything in this direction. He replied that he would be willing to consider any plan they had to offer and today's conference was the result. The mayor will study the plan offered, eliminate whatever sections he doesn't approve and then report his finding to the police department.

DEATHS

LAROSE—Honora Larose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Larose, died yesterday at the Lowell Corporation hospital, aged 16 years and 4 months. Besides his parents, he leaves three sisters, Mrs. Rosanna Lemay of Manchester, Canada, Mrs. Angeline Jacques and Miss Amanda Larose, and eight brothers, Arthur of Three Rivers, Canada, Alphonse, Joseph, Henry, Arsen, Emilie, Antonio and Maurice. The body was taken to the home of his parents, 180 Emmet street, by Undertaker Joseph Albert.

DUGAN—Cornelius C. Dugan, for years engaged in business in Gorham street, died Saturday evening at his home, 35 Fort Hill avenue. He leaves his wife, Margaret Dugan; a son, John Dugan of Providence, R. I.; his mother, Mrs. Mary Dugan of Meriden, Conn.; two brothers, John Dugan of Providence, R. I., Charles Dugan of Meriden, Conn.; two sisters, Mrs. John Feltus and Mrs. Catharine Campbell of Meriden, Conn.; Mrs. Mary Levens of New Haven, Conn.; Mrs. John Sullivan and Miss Teresa Dugan of Providence, R. I. Mr. Dugan was a member of the Lowell order of Elks.

LEAHY—Daniel T. Leahy, a well known member of St. Patrick's church, died early yesterday morning at his home, 794 Broadway after a brief illness. He leaves two daughters, the Misses Katherine and Jennie V. Leahy and one son, Daniel T. Leahy, Jr.

CASSIDY—Mrs. Catherine Cassidy died yesterday morning at the Chelmsford street hospital. She is survived by a husband, Frank Cassidy, and a daughter, Mary Cassidy. The body was removed to the rooms of Undertaker Peter H. Savage.

BOURQUEOIS—It will be with deep regret that the friends of Pierre Bourqueois, a well known business man of this city, will learn of his death, which occurred early last evening at his home, 794 Broadway street, after a lingering illness of over a year, borne with fortitude and resignation. He was born in St. Jean Baptiste, Quebec, Canada, and came to this city where he lived practically all his life, and the news of his demise will be a keen blow to all who knew him, and especially to his friends, who were numerous and to whom he was deeply devoted. Mr. Bourqueois was 49 years of age. He was born at Lacolle, Quebec, Canada, and came to this city in 1915. For a number of years he was employed by a local baker and later he opened a drug store at the corner of Merrimack and Cabot streets, which business he conducted successfully until about 13 years ago, when he opened a wine store in Moody street and later a grocery store in St. Jean Baptiste street. He leaves to mourn his loss, his bereaved wife, Mrs. Fabiola (Gosselin) Bourqueois; two daughters, Rev. Sister Claire Marguerite of the order of Notre Dame in Roxbury, and Marguerite of this city; five sons, Raymond, Albert, Adolphe, Homer, all of whom have an excellent record at the high school, and Andre, who graduated this year from St. Patrick's high school; his father, Mr. Pierre Bourqueois of Napierville; four brothers, Arsene of this city, Adolphe, Theophile and Emilie, all of Napierville, and a sister, Miss Berthe Bourqueois of Napierville. He was a charter member of Club Lafayette and held membership in the Lowell lodge of Elks, Lowell order of Eagles and Club Citizens-Americans.

ISABELLE—Marie R. Alice, aged 4 months, died Saturday night at the Lowell Corporation hospital. The body was removed to the home of the parents, Arthur and Bernadette Isabelle, 4 rear of 481 Moody street and burial services took place yesterday at 2 o'clock in St. Joseph's cemetery, under the direction of Undertakers Amedee Archambault & Sons.

O'BRIEN—John O'Brien, aged 10 years, 9 months, died this morning at St. John's hospital. Besides his parents, James and Nellie O'Brien, he leaves three brothers, Frank, William and Albert, and a sister, Miss Bertha O'Brien, all of Lowell. The body was removed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien, 91 Butterfield street, by Undertakers C. H. Molloy's Sons.

RAPID-FIRE RECRUITING PARTY COMING

Tomorrow, according to schedule, the rapid-fire recruiting party which visited this city from Boston some weeks ago for special duty, will return under the charge of Lieut. S. A. Katz. The crew of the party will come from headquarters, eight men strong in a navy truck all fitted out with power plant and films and moving picture outfit. The films will depict life on board a battleship in the United States navy and will be, dashed upon screens fitted up on the South and North commons during the evenings of the present week. An endeavor has also been made to secure the navy band for special concert programs during the week.

The power for the moving picture machine is carried in the truck and in many cities the men have succeeded in throwing the pictures upon the sides of tall buildings without the use of screens. The pictures will be explained by Chief Quartermaster Johnson.

Chief Joseph Crepeau of the local station is awaiting delivery from the Boston headquarters of a 1100 pound Whitehead torpedo which will be put on exhibition in the Central street office. The torpedo is of standard size and will prove interesting to Lowell citizens. It will arrive at the office disassembled.

MAN HAD BARGAINED TO SELL HIS WIFE

Wilbur Adams and Mrs. Florence J. Lee, both of Derry, N. H., were charged with a statutory offense and fined $50 each in police court this morning. They were arrested by Inspector Moore Saturday night in a house on Merrimack street. Testimony in police court this morning revealed the fact that Mr. Lee was willing to sell the honor of his wife by accepting civil settlement from Adams to the amount of $500. With this end in view he had taken Adams' watch and chain as guarantee of payment of the $500. He stated this morning, however, that $500 was not sufficient and that he would accept nothing less than $2000. Judge Enright would not submit to this bargaining and commercializing of a woman's honor by her husband.

The wife testified that her husband had made several threats against her and that she was afraid of him. Adams gladly paid the $50 fine and the payment of $500 was called off.

Other Offenders

John P. Coff of Somerville and Gertrude Terhan of Arlington were arrested yesterday by Officer Livingston of Billerica for illegal habitation. They were in a camp on the Concord river at Billerica. They were held under bonds for disposition tomorrow pending further investigation.

Joseph Willett was charged with assault and battery on his wife and was held under $200 bail for trial on July 20th. The defendant pleaded guilty.

BACK TO THE FARM FOR GOVERNOR COOLIDGE

PLYMOUTH, Vt., July 19.—Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts, republican nominee for vice president, is "on a rest." With Mrs. Coolidge and their two sons, John and Calvin, he is on his father's farm in the hills of Vermont. He finds the best way to rest is to rise early and help his father do the farm work.

The farm, a hilly one situated at the top of Plymouth notch, consists of over 200 acres, partly wooded and partly cultivated. Long meadows of hay and oats are banked with fruit trees, heavily laden with sweet Vermont apples and juicy plums.

The farm house, sandwiched between the Plymouth cheese factory and the home of Governor Coolidge's aunt, Mrs. J. J. Wilder, is a cozy New England home, white, with swinging green blinds.

The governor has risen at 6 o'clock every morning since his arrival on his 48th birthday, July 4. He usually puts on his grandfather's togs, consisting of an old flannel shirt, denim trousers and old-fashioned cowhide boots, made at the Plymouth tannery in 1858.

He recites with interest the history of the boots. They were made for his grandfather when he was elected to the legislature at Montpelier in 1858 and he wore them continually throughout the session. Governor Coolidge wears them now when he "thinks" around the farm.

A truck which the governor wears when he works in the fields is a relic of his grandfather's days. It is of denim and slides over the head like an army shirt and is not unlike the frocks worn by artists. In it, the governor portrays an entirely different man from the one who sits in the Boston capital, immaculately attired.

By way of adding to his hearty appetite for the splendid country cooking prepared by his father's housekeeper, the governor frequently goes into the meadows before the mist has cleared and mows a good sized corner of the field before the breakfast bell rings. He says it is much more invigorating than golf and fully as remunerative although he humorously adds that "some chaps make more at golf than they would at farming."

J. C. Coolidge has a large woodpile in front of the house. Most of it was originally chopped for stove wood but several chunks were left for the open fireplace. When the elderly farmer, who is 75 years old, returned from a fishing trip recently, he found all the larger pieces slithered to kindling and men.

DOG BITES WOMAN

Dr. Fred P. Murphy has notified the board of health of a case of dog-bite which occurred Saturday. The victim was Mrs. Elizabeth Fabey of 154 Church street, who was bitten on her left side. Dr. Murphy reported that the dog was owned by a Shanley family living in Joiners' court, off Lawrence street. Dr. Walter A. Sherman, animal inspector of the board of health, has been notified.

RECRUITS FOR NAVY

William Nicholas of 47 Winthrop avenue, Ernest Moran of North Billerica, and Harold J. Witham of 55 Middlesex street, were forwarded to Boston this morning, as recruits for the naval service. William Nicholas is a naval reserve man transferring to active duty.

Warden Plummer of the Neweastle county workhouse in Delaware has such confidence in the honor of his prisoners that he has sent out a batch of long-term convicts on road work, absolutely unguarded. The men are working many miles from the prison, and were sent out in trucks in charge of fellow-convicts, who act as foremen.
